Uneasy Cease-Fire Called In Katanga; War Peril Remains

Tshombe, U.N. Group Sign Pact

Secession Dispute Still Unsettled In Strife-Torn Congo

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—An uneasy cease-fire was proclaimed today in embattled Katanga but the danger of civil war still hung over the Congo.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and the U.N. command signed a provisional cease-fire that froze the positions of their warring forces. Still unsettled is the issue that led to the shooting—Katanga's secession.

While a lull in the fighting was already evident before the peace pact was reached there were no immediate reports whether all shooting had stopped according to the timetable set for one minute past midnight.

A new threat came from the Congo central government, which has been a bystander during the eight days of fighting between the Katangan forces and U.N. troops acting at the government request.

With Tshombe as adamant as ever in keeping his mineral-rich province independent, Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula alerted the Congolese army with the declaration the central government would "spare no effort to end Katanga's secession."

Speaking in Leopoldville before the cease-fire was announced, Adoula warned his government "will reply to force with force."

The shadow of the late Patrice Lumumba hung over the Congo capital. Supporters of the slain leftist former premier demonstrated in the streets shouing anti-Western slogans, and Soviet diplomats, kicked out after Lumumba's overthrow, moved back to set up shop again.

The provisional cease-fire calling for a freeze in all military operations in Katanga was reached Wednesday night in a cordial but cool atmosphere on neutral grounds in this Northern Rhodesian frontier town.

Smiling and outwardly confident, Tshombe made the announcement first at a news conference. Mahmoud Khiari of Tunisia, who took over as chief U.N. negotiator after Dag Hammarskjold met his death in a plane crash flying to the peace talks, confirmed the agreement later.

Both sides emphasized that the agreement is subject to approval by U.N. headquarters in New York.

Esther Reported Weakening

Hurricane Losing Punch On Nearing New England

BULLETIN

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — Air Force meteorologists today reported, "The eye of hurricane Esther has closed. Winds are diminishing fast and Cape Cod may have no hurricane at all."

By The Associated Press

Hurricane Esther apparently lost some of her punch today as she approached Cape Cod and offshore Massachusetts islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard.

The Weather Bureau at Boston at 10 a.m., Eastern Daylight Time, said the hurricane had slowed down and was giving indication of a slight weakening.

The storm was centered about 50 miles south southeast of Block Island, R.I., at that time and was moving northeastward at about five miles an hour. Winds, however, were said to be about 100 miles an hour south of Cape Cod.

Hurricane warnings remain displayed from eastern Long Island, N.Y., to Eastport, Maine, with gale warnings to Cape May, N.J.

The hurricane watch was discontinued in Connecticut and in the New York City area.

No sustained hurricane winds were reported along the coasts of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine.

As a precaution, children in the summer compound of President Kennedy were removed at dawn to Otis Air Force Base, 18 miles away from Hyannis Port. Five cars were used to move the Kennedy vacationists who included the President's children, Caroline and John Jr.

The Secret Service requested they move.

Others leaving the Kennedy compound were the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; three of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford; and one of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy.

U.S.-Soviet Clash Seen On Red China U.N. Seat Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will address the United Nations General Assembly next Monday, the White House announced today.

Meanwhile, the U.S. and the Soviet Union were to come to grips today on the perennial issue of giving Red China a U.N. seat. For the first time in a decade both agree the General Assembly should debate the question.

The two big powers are sure to clash, however, when the 21-nation Steering Committee meets later in the day to decide how the explosive question shall be placed before the 99-nation assembly.

Still opposed to admitting the Peiping regime, the United States has agreed only to assembly debate on the issue.

The Red China issue was one of several serious cold war disputes that cropped up either on the agenda or in the background almost as soon as the assembly met Tuesday. Among others are Berlin, disarmament and the future of the United Nations itself. This last involves the task of choosing a successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, in the face of stern Soviet opposition.

In the Steering Committee, the United States is determined to block the Soviet demand that the United Nations recognize Peiping as rightful holder of the seat now occupied by Nationalist China.

The U.S. delegation announced support for a New Zealand proposal to debate the over-all question of who should represent China.

For New Parking Lot

Ceramic Theater Acquired By City

The city officially acquired ownership of the Ceramic Theater today for $45,000, climaxing more than six months of negotiations and legislative action to clear the way for the towering old structure to be razed to make way for a municipal parking lot.

The deal was completed about noon when City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper turned over a check to Atty. Jason H. Brookes, representing the heirs of the Tallmate Estate, owner of the structure.

The city acted immediately to demolish the structure and convert the site to metered off-street parking.

SAFETY - SERVICE Director Robert Owen issued a call for contractors' bids to be received until noon Oct. 6 at City Hall for furnishing labor and material for demolishing the building.

He said each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1,000 to guarantee the bidder will execute a contract if his offer is accepted.

Tallman Estate heirs have agreed to pay the real estate taxes for the first half of 1961, totaling $600.

When the check changed hands, the city immediately acquired title to the property, as the deed already has been signed by all nine heirs.

The city borrowed the funds on a note which later will be retired by the proceeds of a bond issue. The city expects to retire the bonds over a 10-year period with income from the lot.

The big check that completed the transaction was signed for the city by Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson.

FINAL ENABLING legislation for the deal was enacted by Council in mid-June and approved a few days later by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. The interval between the final authorization and the completion of the sale was occupied principally with title transactions, particularly a search to make certain the city would receive a clear deed for the property.

First public announcement of plans to acquire the theater was made in mid-March. At that time, Cooper advised Council that the Tallman heirs had accepted an offer of $45,000 for the building—climax of several months of negotiation.

The overall cost of the project is expected to be close to $60,000, with $15,000 set aside for razing the structure, leveling and surfacing the site and purchasing meters.

The Ceramic lot fronts 98 feet on E. 4th St. and is 130 feet deep. It is expected to provide spaces for about 40 autos.

WHEN THE city put out the first feelers on the property, the Tallman Estate indicated a price of $90,000, including $60,000 for the building and $30,000 for the equipment. In intervening weeks, the heirs shaved their price for the building, meanwhile deciding to dispose of the equipment separately rather than requiring that it be included in the sale.

The theater has been closed approximately two years.

Rusk Meets Gromyko On Vital Issues

Cold War Talks To Be Centered Mainly On Berlin Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opens a series of cold war talks with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today in a delicate and dangerous diplomatic maneuver to find out whether the Soviet Union is interested in a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis.

The two men scheduled a luncheon conference for the first of a series of discussions expected to continue into next week. Rusk invited Gromyko to the meeting in his suite at a midtown hotel. Several policy advisers on each side also will attend.

Berlin was the central issue of the meeting but aides of both men said there was no doubt they would also discuss the crisis in the United Nations arising from Soviet opposition to appointment of a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Gromyko gave no advance sign of any Soviet yielding on either of the two great problems that have brought the world's two mightiest powers into threatening conformation.

Rusk was reported in an adamant mood, determined to warn the Soviet government anew of war dangers in the Berlin dispute and of Western fears for the future of the U.N.

Rusk, who took the initiative in setting up the talks, faced the tricky task of sounding out Soviet views on Berlin negotiations without giving Gromyko any impression that the Western Allies are acting from weakness or fear of war. Such an impression, Western diplomats said, would increase the danger of war over Berlin by encouraging a Soviet miscalculation of Western intentions.

Road Project Plans Aired For UOVDC

Tri-State Highway Aides Speakers At Steubenville Event

Long - range plans for highway projects throughout the Tri-State region were reviewed by officials from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia at a luncheon meeting with the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council Wednesday at the Steubenville Country Club.

William McKenna, head of the State Highway Department Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, discussed the progress on work on southern stages of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway, which will stretch from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

He reiterated that plans for the second stage, stretching from the north city limits of East Liverpool to Substation, will be completed in November or December.

The meeting was conducted by Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the UOVDC highway committee. Pennsylvania spokesman was Robert Klucher, Pittsburgh district engineer. West Virginia's representative was Vincent J. Johnkoski, assistant commissioner of the State Road Commission at Charleston.

Others in the East Liverpool delegation were C. W. Ashbaugh, a UOVDC vice president; Jud English, representing the Columbiana County Motor Club, and E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

About 60 from the six-county UOVDC area attended the two-and-a-half-hour meeting. Each highway department spokesman reviewed current or pending construction in his area. Then the meeting was opened to questions.

Other highway department representatives attending were G. G. Margette of Pittsburgh, district engineer in charge of preconstructive plans; Manley V. Howard of

2 Convicted In Fraud

BEAVER — A Beaver County jury returned a guilty verdict Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in the trial of Robert H. Tearpoak and Mrs. Betty Hoffman of New Brighton who were charged with attempted fraud in selling tickets for a benefit show for the blind which never came off March 5.

Driver Fined For Leaving Crash Scene

A Newell district father of eight was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge he abandoned his auto and fled on foot late Wednesday afternoon after he was involved in a minor traffic accident on E. 4th St. near Walnut St.

Robert D. Phillips, 39, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident filed by Patrolman K. H. Mooney. Officers said he fled after his 1956 sedan sideswiped another 1956 car operated by Frederick D. Hopper, 39, of 1811 Harvey Ave. The crash was timed at 5:25.

Phillips was taken into custody at 1:30 this morning at City Hall with the assistance of Patrolman Clarence Lennens of Chester, officers said. Phillips went to Chester police at 11:30 p. m. to file a report his auto had been stolen, but later changed his mind, police reported.

Hopper said his eastbound car

Council Advised Of 3rd Turndown On $450,000 Project

Chester's application for $110,000 in federal aid for proposed construction of a $450,000 sewage disposal plant has been rejected for the third time, Council was told at a meeting Wednesday night.

A letter was read from the West Virginia Water Resources Commission, stating that the commission did not give Chester a state priority for the grant.

The commission's chairman, Dr. Warden M. Lane, said the action was considered at the meeting Aug. 30. The application was filed April 3.

Lane wrote, "The priorities are granted based upon the point system as established by this agency. We advise that the city either proceed on their own or

Experts Minimize Hazards

Health Service Expands Fallout Detection System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is expanding its fallout detection network and is speeding efforts to determine whether any significant health hazard may be expected from the Soviet Union's nuclear tests in the atmosphere, it was learned today.

At the same time, top fallout experts of the agency told a reporter that even the comparatively high levels of atmospheric radiation reported at least temporarily in some parts of the country could be exceeded many times without necessarily posing a significant health threat.

They said it all boils down to this: Regardless of what the atmospheric readings show, any threat to health depends on how much and what kinds of radioactive material ultimately are ingested by people in milk, water and food—or are inhaled.

So far, they said, they have not made sufficient tests to enable estimates on these latter points—but some new steps are designed to help speed such assessments.

They disclosed these new actions:

1. Two additional fallout detection stations were added during the past few days to add to the 45 stations in 39 states. The new ones are at Bismarck, N.D., and Nashville, Tenn.

Plans are in progress to have a station in all states.

2. Six of the approximately 60 stations maintained by the service's radiological health division to take samples of milk to allow analysis of radioactive content have been alerted to take samples every day, instead of monthly as all stations did previously.

The stations so alerted are at Atlanta: Jackson, Miss., Charlotte, N.C.; Tampa, Fla., New Orleans and St. Louis. And analyses will be done for these stations by the health service's laboratory at Montgomery, Ala.

3. Ten of the stations in the nationwide network of fallout detection stations are being equipped with special apparatus

Jurors Hear Number Slip Complaint

LISBON — The recalled Columbiana County September Grand Jury today heard evidence in a criminal complaint against the Lisbon Salesbook Co. for illegal printing of numbers books.

The panel was slated to hear a total of 13 witnesses in four cases before reporting this afternoon.

Assistant Attorney General John W. Gleason of Columbus, who took part in the Sept. 6 raid at the Maple St. firm, presented the evidence this morning, along with Atty. Jack Nybell of Youngstown, also an assistant attorney general.

Among witnesses called to testify in the case were Walter Knight and Dave Grannan of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London, along with three employes of the plant — John Strudthoff, Catherine McKee and Alfred Carlisle — plus three Wellsville men, Raymond Dickey Jr., Robert Vernon and MacArthur Coleman.

Four other witnesses were to testify in three other cases, according to Prosecutor William Brokaw.

U.S.-Wide Strike Quashed

Local-Level Problems Stymie Full GM Accord

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union—its threat of a nationwide strike against General Motors Corp. quashed—aimed today at a new approach to local problems holding up complete settlement of a new contract with GM.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said Wednesday night the union has "developed a new approach to expedite the settlements of unresolved local issues."

He scheduled a 10 a.m. meeting today of the General Motors Council, a union advisory board, to discuss the new approach. Reuther declined to elaborate on the plan.

Today's meeting followed a hectic night which saw the council vote to accept a GM-UAW national agreement on the money package and national work rules. A few hours later, however, the council voted to ask the UAW International Executive Board for authority to strike GM in support of local contract demands.

The board, governing body of the UAW, met quickly. Less than two hours later, Reuther announced that the board would not authorize a general strike against GM. He said the advisory council's action was an "action by members demonstrating the bitterness of some toward some local practices. This was a culmination of resentment over local problems and the locals' way of protesting."

He said a general strike "cannot in good conscience be justified, therefore it will not be authorized." He added: "All General Motors employes in plants where local issues are resolved are instructed to stay on the job."

Local unions which still had not reached agreement with their managements retained the authority to strike.

GM officials declined comment on the union's actions.

Wednesday night's flurry followed a day in which GM and the UAW apparently reached agreement on national contract demands and made substantial progress on the various local demands.

Kennedy Names Chicago Lawyer To Currency Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an on-again, off-again bit of White House byplay, President Kennedy has named Chicago lawyer James J. Saxon to replace Ray M. Gidney as comptroller of currency.

The appointment, announced Wednesday, will become effective Nov. 15.

Gidney, a Republican, has disagreed strongly with Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the president's brother, over antitrust policy on bank mergers.

The White House announced nomination of Saxon, a Democrat Wednesday afternoon. A spokesman said he understood Gidney was stepping out under a verbal agreement with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

Less than two hours later, the White House withdrew the nomination. The Treasury Department said it was all a mistake, that the nomination had been sent to the White House "as a result of a clerical error in the rush at the close of the session in Congress."

Still later, the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, summoned reporters back to the White House and said Gidney is resigning effective Nov. 15 and Saxon would succeed him in the $20,500 job.

Gidney's term is not scheduled to expire until 1963. Saxon will be given a recess appointment to finish out Gidney's term. The nomination requires Senate approval.

They're Counting On U.S.

Another thing the Communists couldn't have done better if they'd planned it is the gritty American resolve to save the United Nations, on the assumption the Soviet Union wants to wreck it.

The last thing the Soviet Union wants to do is wreck the United Nations. It's the only spot where U.S.S.R. spokesmen must be listened to by governments that would walk out under other circumstances.

It's the one place where the Communist Conspiracy can gloss over its ham-fisted tactics with an appearance of legality.

And it is the place where Communist plotters are hoping to line up votes to create the illusion that the United States has dwindled to minority status in a reddening world.

The United Nations is the best bargain the Soviet Union ever dreamed of having a share in. The only thing wrong with it as far as the Russians are concerned, was its secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjold, who was not intimidated by Russian bully-boy tactics — and Hammarskjold has been removed by fate. The only thing wrong with it before Hammarskjold was Trygve Lie, equally unintimidated by Russian tactics — and he was forced out by the Kremlin, which had been using pressure against Hammarskjold.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics loves the United Nations.

IT IS MADE to order for Communist dialects.

Nothing could be a more exciting challenge to a government that believes the ultimate goal of world domination by the Communist Conspiracy justifies every means.

All the Russian plotters would have to do now is muster a majority for a secretary-general sympathetic to them, and the United States would have no choice but to get out of the United Nations. It would take with it its few real friends, presumably, though not certainly.

It would leave behind enough "paper nations" to constitute a majority for the Soviet Union. An illusion that the Soviet Union had a majority and the United States only a minority then would be strengthened by voting strength given to still-born, half-born and ill-conceived nations as well as to nations of great strength and strong tradition.

All this would be impossible if anything happened to the United Nations. The Russians are counting on this country's gritty determination to save it.

All it takes to fire up plucky Americans in a situation like this is a suspicion that perfidious Russians are trying to do something; that always makes Americans want to do the opposite.

THE MAIN THING to bear in mind is that no one is counting more heavily on the United Nations than the Russians. With a little luck, they can use it to boost Red China into international society. With a lot of luck and arm-twisting, they can use it to vote the United States out of international society, using machinery created by the United States itself.

Many things have changed since the United States dared to hope the United Nations would be an international organization of nations possessing good will and a common interest in the freedom of men.

One thing, however, is still the same. The Soviet Union still doesn't give a whoop about freedom and good will. It is still using the United Nations as it used it from the outset —as a means of undermining freedom and good will.

It is counting on the United States to save the United Nations at any cost because if it didn't exist it would have to be invented; that's what Americans often say.

They are hoping to build a more tolerant, more satisfying world with its help. The Communists have other ideas about the kind of world they hope to build, but they intend to build it with the help of the United Nations, too.

Dag Hammarskjold is dead. Long live the United Nations. The Russians hope so most of all.

Do You Have The Right To Vote?

Another municipal election is almost here, with the important office of mayor among those to be filled Nov. 7.

Your vote will count as much as the next fellow's — that is, if you're eligible to vote. If not, you will be forced to leave it to George!

If you are uncertain of your status as a voter, stop and take stock.

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 7 the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool again is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Don't forfeit one of your most prized possessions through carelessness. If you must register, do so at once.

Following The Buy-Lines

For newspaper people, especially ones who were voting before the era of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the introduction of new automobiles is a satisfying experience.

It brings to a climax the most exciting potentialities and opportunities of newspapering. News stories tell about the unveiling dates for the new models and highlights of their design and operation. Advertisements give the manufacturers' "buy-lines" and recite the details of their newest creations.

But most exciting is the realization by newspaper people who watched the unfolding of their all-American phenomenon of mass transportation that their institutions have been part of this miracle.

Mass transportation in private vehicle was made possible by an unlimited supply of ever-improving automobiles for an ever-growing demand. Not only in the case of automobiles but in all commodities and products that created wealth in our expanding economy, newspapers brought together those who had something to sell and those looking for something to buy.

The automobile ads are here again. There are many ways to sell cars besides newspaper advertising, but printed advertising in newspapers and magazines is still the clincher. This isn't the prejudiced theory of newspaper people, but the composite judgment of people who buy automobiles. They make up their minds, finally, on the basis of what they read.

That's how it was when the automobile era was starting, and that's how it is today, when the era is at its peak. And it's as gratifying and satisfying to see how it works now as it used to be when everything now taken for granted was an innovation.

The Once Over

TV comedians in war and peace need some controls in critical situations. If TV had existed down through American history we can imagine following dispatches:

Boston, Mass., Dec. 15, 1773, Larry Slick's company of well-known entertainers, arrived here today for a special show (in color) of situation which may provoke Boston Tea Party. "Maybe we should call it the Boston TV Party," said one of the associated comics. He was immediately shot.

Some place, (later), there is indignation among colonist leaders because of what is called the "Paul Revere-Late Late Show Incident."

With relations between Redcoats and Americans extremely tense, "Chet Beezley and His Midnight Funmakers" surrounded Paul Revere's horse in order not to miss contemplated ride.

"We came by land," said Chet, "and not by sea. Followed the one if by land, two if by sea signals in Old North Church."

(He added "just a gag, understand?") Later two of his guest stars actually ascended the stairs of Old North Church, frightening pigeons from their perch with the unpardonable quip "This is not for the birds."

Bunker Hill, June 10, 1775: Indicating that a battle was near, Dick Smith and his "Yodel Along With Smitty" Troupe, set up things for extensive coverage of current scenes here. Joshua Jones, Minuteman, selected for a street corner interview, said, "It will be close. I hear our side won't shoot until we see the whites of their eyes."

San Juan Hill, July 1898; Teddy Roosevelt was half way up San Juan hill today when he turned to drive off TV producers, sponsors and actors and press agents mobilizing to make it a two-hour "spectacular."

Several Rough Riders have been disciplined for not booting them away in the first place.

Barney Botts, chief TV performer said, "I can't understand all the indignation. Teddy has no entertainment business experience. We were simply trying to guarantee a good show.

HOW CAN ANYTHING come of talks between Secretary Rusk and Gromyko? Gromyko is the Abominable NO Man. You can't get him to go along with you on a statement "It looks like rain."

Some folks think new movie "Splendor In The Grass" is about a beauty contest winner weeding the lawn.

Secretary Ribicoff is all out for better control of prescription drugs and a cut in high prices. "You can shop around for shoes, groceries or autos but not for prescription drugs," he says. Even an estimate on price of some wonder-pills is regarded as an "extra."

Odd Facts

About three-fifths of all the 16 million people over 65 in the U.S. have an income of less than $1,000 per year. Only one-fifth live on more than $2,000 annually, and about one in 10 has no personal income at all. This financial plight of our senior citizens, according to one authority, may be due in part to the pact that more than three-fourths of retired persons think of themselves as "too old to work at a steady job." Fewer than one in five is employed even part-time.

Officially speaking, the United States consists of 46 states and four commonwealths. The Commonwealths are Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky. The two terms have about the same meaning, but "commonwealth" originally denoted more of "self-government" than "state."

Civil War Grips Gangland

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

Dead men may tell no tales—but they do leave an awful bloody trail. Gruesomely it stretches all the way from New York through Ohio and into this city, from which the bullet-strewn road leads right into Las Vegas. There have been some 40 executions by the big time crime syndicates—that we know of — in the last few months. And those who should know say there are shootings and other refined but lethal treatment of hoods of which the public never will be told.

Victor Riesel

The unimpeachables, who never are wrong in these matters, believe the blood letting is the result of a civil war between the elders of the old combinations and the "youngsters" of Detroit.

I would not report this if I did not take the word of these informants as absolute. They say that a new Detroit clan is demanding a bigger cut in the take in gambling, narcotics, "legitimate business, industrial rackets, and some unions."

NOTHING AROUSES the beady-eyed beast in the soft-voiced veterans of the old manicured mobs so swiftly as a nip in their territories. So the old-timers have gone in for some "educational reprisals" to teach the invaders a lesson. Result—scores of killings right across the land.

There may or may not be a single national crime syndicate but when the old-timers are threatened they get up their high court and the executions start. Though the government believes it couldn't happen to more deserving chaps, law and order is law and order.

Some of the FBI's best agents now are working steadily on this civil war in Ohio, Chicago, Detroit and right on down to Kansas City. There, the Department of Justice has one of its biggest undercover operations going.

That's one end of this sweet nutcracker maneuver. At the other end, in Washington, C. D. itself, the Justice Department has assigned some 60 lawyers to do little but gather information—all sorts of information about the country's top hoods. But without waiting for any crime to be committed.

The lawyers, part of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section, pick up anything they can, ranging from birth certificates in other parts of the world to tax returns.

NOR DO THESE lawyers limit themselves to any band of organized criminals. They do have a list of the 40 men they believe control most of America's crime.

This list could be stretched to 50, or perhaps 100. But when you get beyond the original 40 you begin running into the subsiterns and maybe just an ambitious hood whose flashing fists and guns and bankroll make him stand out for a moment.

The 50 investigating lawyers and their topside chief, Bob Kennedy, believe that the government can't lose on this investment. Sooner or later something will break. Then they simply go to their cross-indexed files gathered from all government agencies and prosecute.

They don't expect that this prosecution necessarily will be criminal, such as for violating of some statute.

The prosecutions could come, and probably will come, on charges of commitment of a "commercial crime" or for attempts to move into the labor field.

It is not generally realized how deeply the mob has imbedded itself in the nation's economic business life. Nor is it realized that violations of some of the federal commercial regulatory statutes could bring sentences of 10 years and fines of tens of thousands of dollars.

IF YOU WANT a swift look at the mob's business operations, covered by a thousand federal commercial regulations, just read what Aaron M. Kohn, managing director of the New Orleans Metropolitan Crime Commission told Sen. McClellan's committee recently. It has been overlooked by virtually the entire country:

Referring to the activities of Louisiana mobster Carlos Marcello, Kohn said that the profits of Marcello's racing wire service financed legal and illegal businesses, including handbooks, gambling houses, coin-operated device companies, bars, restaurants, night clubs, motels, transportation facilities, real estate developments, food processing plants and even deep-sea shrimping fleets.

There are many top criminal chiefs who make similar "legitimate" money. They had better be running mighty clean businesses. Prison is prison, whether someone goes up for cleaning up on narcotics or failing to clean up a food plant.

The heat's on from all sides and from the inside. Looks like it might be a mighty hot year for the men who have organized crime so profitably for so long.

The most beautiful blooms in the flower garden at our house are now in evidence — chrysanthemums, spectacular hybrid marigolds and roses. But at this time of the year no one seems to be in a mood to pay attention to flowers, which is one more reason for calling these "the melancholy days."

Before busting out crying about political predictions that tax-supported colleges will have to charge more tuition unless stingy taxpayers loosen up, remember that tuition in private schools now runs up to more than $1,500 a year, which is half the actual cost. Stingy taxpayers already are doing pretty well by the sons and daughters of parents hitching a free ride in tax-supported universities.

It is amusing if you, too, are forgetful about names to ask people to give you quickly the name of the vice president who served with Harry S. Truman. There are people who can't even remember who ran for vice president with Richard M. ## Advice To GOP

By David Lawrence

'Opposition' Organizations Seen Party Need

The Republican party has fallen down badly as the party of opposition in the last several months.

David Lawrence

Meanwhile, the Kennedy publicity apparatus is functioning effectively with all the benefits that an incumbent in the White House naturally can derive in taking advantage of his position as the chief news maker of the day.

The fault of the Republican side, to be sure, is not with any individual but with the system, which also has plagued the Democrats at times when they were the party out of power.

The two men, for instance, who today seem to have the largest number of supporters for the Republican nomination in 1964 are not even in Washington these days except for occasional visits.

Right now, former Vice President Nixon is considering whether he will run for governor of California. To take that office would be a mistake if he really wants the Republican presidential nomination in 1964 for he cannot possibly keep in close contact with national affairs while preoccupied with local affairs at the state capital in Sacramento.

The argument made vehemently in his favor throughout the 1960 campaign was that he had played an intimate part in the activities of the executive as well as legislative branch of the national government for eight years.

This talking point about experience will diminish in value for him to a large extent by 1964, when Mr. Kennedy's actual experience with world problems from 1961 to 1964 will become his big asset against either Gov. Rockefeller or Mr. Nixon if the latter is nominated and elected governor of California.

THE SITUATION would seem to call for an unusual kind of remedy. It requires the organization of a "loyal opposition" patterned somewhat on the British system.

If a group of Republican voters who are devoted supporters of Mr. Nixon wish to see him elected president in 1964, they could contribute relatively small sums each year to finance a "Citizens for Nixon" organization which would pay Mr. Nixon's living expenses and office needs in Washington.

A working staff could be set up of men experienced in the various departments of government. In fact, by the creation of an "alternate" department of state and an equivalent unit for each of the other executive departments, the country could be kept advised from week to week as to what is really going on in their government.

The opposition viewpoint, expressed through speeches in Congress, is presented intermittently of course, but rarely are there any alternate programs offered and widely distributed in a comprehensive form to the voters.

Mr. Nixon belongs in Washington at the head of such an organization. Another one just like it could be established by the friends and supporters of Gov. Rockefeller, who, instead of running for reelection in New York in 1962, could devote himself to working every day in Washington as part of a "loyal opposition."

COOPERATION BETWEEN two or more such organizations of rival candidates could be carried on to a certain extent — as, for example, on the information-gathering side. All this would operate as a check on radicalism in Washington and would certainly be of assistance to members of Congress.

Sen. Goldwater, who is gaining considerable support for the Republican presidential nomination, is making a number of effective speeches in opposition to administration policies, but, without a big organization of full-time associates, he cannot possibly give the necessary time to the day-by-day study of executive problems and still keep up his work as a senator.

Something sooner or later will have to be done to build opposition strength in America's political parties along the lines of what is done so successfully in Britain.

Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader in the Senate, said last week that he expects to have more frequent visits with Gov. Rockefeller, just as he has had recently with former Vice President Nixon.

While these meetings are helpful to congressional leaders, they are not a substitute for study every day in the currently neglected field of executive action.

AN "ALTERNATE CABINET" or group of staff executives under the supervision of former Vice President Nixon and another under Gov. Rockefeller — if he gave up his work in Albany and came to Washington to perform a full-time task as a member of the "loyal opposition" — would provide a lot of information valuable to the electorate.

Speeches made throughout the country by leading candidates for the Republican nomination would then be based on a great deal of firsthand information and would certainly get more attention than the occasional commentaries heard on the stump today.

Safer Young Drivers

By Earl Ubell

How much you pay on your next automobile liability insurance premium may depend on whether you feel like talking back to your father, prefer "Dick Tracy" to "Peanuts" as a comic strip or have some particular ambition in life. It's your psychological outlook that counts; not your speed with the brake.

In Iowa, it's already happened. There, potential hot-rodders get a personality test from one insurance company and the outcome determines their premiums. And it works.

The test was able to pick out groups of men under 25 years of age who end up with the most accidents.

Dr. Charles F. Haner, who developed the test at Grinnell College gives a thumbnail sketch of the safe driver.

Briefly, the safe boy is docile, non-aggressive, compliant, intellectual and conservative. That means when you ask him: "Would you prefer to be a YMCA leader, a scoutmaster or a plumber?" he answers: YMCA leader or scout master." It shows a concern for others that manifests itself in road courtesy.

Or he answers "Yes" to: Do you want your life to be well ordered and planned so that it is highly predictable?"

In comic strips his tastes run to "Peanuts" and "Pogo" rather than to "Dick Tracy" or "Steve Canyon." The latter are much too rush-around and adventuresome for the safe driver.

The test divided the young men into three groups. They had been given a promise of lowered premium possibility if they took the test. Otherwise they had to pay the usual high premium for the under 25 category.

In general, Group III which the test predicted as having the highest accident rate also had the greatest number of claims in which they were at fault. The rate was twice as high as that of Group I, the least-risk men.

The test was even better in picking out the boys with multiple claims. There Group III had four times as many claims as Group I. Even the cash settlement was higher for Group III.

As for accidents in which the driver was not at fault, those also were higher in the Group III types. That's not surprising Dr. Haner said.

"The youth who drives at a high rate of speed behind another car on a graveled road is very apt to get a windshield chipped or a headlight broken," he said.

"The one who insists on his legal right of way and will not yield to a car making an illegal entry or the boy who ignores intersections because he has right of way, is very apt to be involved in an accident; whereas the more cautious boy would not be in the same situation."

The Basques

About a million Basques live in villages scattered through the rocky mountain borderland of southwest France and north-central Spain.

Long isolated, the Basques have preserved a strange language and distinct physical type. Two characteristics — a sharply tapering skull and unusual blood types — suggest they come from very ancient stock.

Though the origin of the Basques is unknown, some ethnologists believe they may be direct survivors of a Stone Age people. Others link them to the extinct Etruscans. Another theory, which puts the Basques in a more recent time, holds that they stem from early Iberians who fled into the mountains to escape Roman conquest.

Wellsville Terminal Resumes Operations

Normal operations were resumed at the Mississippi Lime Co. terminal on the Ohio River at 16th St., Wellsville, Wednesday after the plant had been shut down Tuesday by Mayor William J. Shoub because of complaints of heavy dust throughout the neighborhood.

Officials of the firm conferred Tuesday afternoon with the mayor and then again Tuesday night with City Council, promising to correct the situation. They were informed the terminal could operate as long as the dust nuisance remains abated.

The officials also outlined plans for erection of a new facility at the site which they said will eliminate any possibility of lime dust.

South Side Citizens To Pay Grid Lighting

The South Side Citizens' Association met Wednesday night at South Side High School near Hookstown and voted to pay for the lighting, by a generator, for one football game.

The group also voted to give $100 to the band toward the purchase of kettle drums. Discussion was held on setting up a membership drive.

Oldsmobile Being Shown Locally

Completely different front and rear styling, new fender lines and new crisp roof designs — that describes the 1962 line of Oldsmobiles, Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and a vice president of General Motors says.

With the introduction of two new convertibles, Oldsmobile is expanding its F-85 line to a total of nine models, Wolfram pointed out.

The new Cutlass Convertible, like its companion model, the Cutlass Coupe, will be equipped with all - Morocceen interiors, front bucket seats and the Cutlass 185 ultra-high compression, aluminum V-8 engine.

"This engine," Wolfram said, "with its 215-cubic-inch displacement, a four-barrell carburetor and a 10.25-to-1 compression ratio, gives spectacular performance with surprisingly good mileage on premium grade gasolines."

The standard engine for all other F-85's is the 8-cylinder, 155-horsepower, aluminum Rockette engine. It also has a displacement of 215 cubic inches, but is equipped with a two-barrel carburetor and 8.75-to-1 compression ratio for operating with regular grade fuels.

"For 1962," Wolfram continued, "we have made further styling refinements and mechanical improvements. In addition, Oldsmobile's increased emphasis on quality and reliability designed for even greater customer satisfaction, places the F-85 in a class by itself in the low-price field."

Among the body design improvements noted by Oldsmobile's general manager is almost two inches of additional leg room in the rear compartment of the four-door sedans for increased passenger comfort.

Palestines' New Industry To Ship

EAST PALESTINE — First shipment from the new Insul Co. plant, where initial production of chemical products for steel firms began Friday, is slated to be made by the end of the week, officials said today.

The firm currently employs 10, but may have as many as 30 working later, according to Michael D. LaBate of Ellwood City, and his son, Michael E. LaBate, who operate the concern.

The firm constructed a 48-x-200-foot addition to the former Linver Stone Co. plant at the Chamber of Commerce site near the city power plant.

Insul will continue to operate plants at Wampum, Pa., and at Negley for a while at least, although a consolidation may be undertaken in the future, the officials said.

100 Attend Palestine School Group Event

EAST PALESTINE — About 100 attended a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night at the high school at which M. H. Martin of Massillon spoke on audio-visual aids.

Head of the M. H. Martin Co., a audio-visual aid firm, he demonstrated various types of equipment and spoke on their use. He said there is especially a need for aids in teaching foreign languages.

Absence Excused

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Mothers of Twins Club convention had scheduled a panel discussion by parents of twins, but the meeting had to be cancelled. The leader of the discussion did not arrive in town because his wife was delivering their third set of twins.

'Crank' Letters From Ex-County Man Are Halted

Postal authorities have halted distribution of a large number of form letters from a former Columbiana County man mailed to county residents, criticizing certain officials involved in a previous divorce preceeding at Lisbon.

Residents in the Salem and Lisbon areas and elsewhere have been receiving the letters in the past several days from the man now in Nevada.

Termed a "letter of truth," the accounts relate his stand in the controversy with his wife, the divorce proceedings and his criticism of court officials and doctors in the case.

One authority said as many as 3,000 such letters may have been received. However, at Lisbon the distribution of the letters has been halted, and postal inspectors asked to investigate.

Some 600 of the letters are being held at Salem for study of inspectors, and a number are also being detained at Lisbon.

Lawrenceville Gets First Street Light

Lawrenceville's first street light, obtained through private financing, was turned on Wednesday night.

The light was installed at the intersection of the Lawrenceville Rd. and Stevenson Ave. by the Monongahela Power Co. at a cost of $3 a month, paid by three families in the area at $1 each.

The utility has installed some 28 such lights in Hancock County under its public outdoor lighting service, Walter Jordan, Chester manager, said.

33 Of Federal Agencies Allow Phone Monitoring

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Big brother may not be watching you, yet, but his secretary probably is listening in on your telephone calls to government agencies."

That's the conclusion of the House Government Information subcommittee after a survey of telephone monitoring practices of 37 major government agencies.

The report, issued today, said 33 of the 37 federal agencies permit some kind of telephone monitoring—if you include having a secretary make notes of dates, numbers, future engagements and the like.

It added that 21 agencies have no regulations on telephone monitoring, and 17 do not always require that the other party be warned that what he is saying is being taken down.

The report said most agencies "rationalize it as an aid to efficiency. When monitoring is done secretly and becomes eavesdropping, however, the bureaucracy is sacrificing principle on the altar of efficiency."

The report said there were indications of "a dangerous drift toward a huge bureaucracy peering over the shoulder of the citizen."

The survey was conducted by the stafff of the subcommittee headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif. The subcommittee was fought for five years to make information on government business more accessible to the public.

The report said it found 363 transmitter cutoff switches and 240 listening-in circuits on telephones going through a switchboard operated by the General Services Administration. It said the great majority of these was on phone lines of the Welfare Department.

A transmitter cutoff switch is a button that shuts off the transmitter part of a telephone, so someone can hear but cannot be heard. A listening-in circuit is another method of hearing without being heard.

The telephone company charges extra for both devices, and the report estimated that "many thousand of dollars a year are spent on the listening-in devices."

East End Girl Scout Group Stresses Need Of Leaders

A need for new leaders was stressed at the meeting of the East End Girl Scout Neighborhood Association Wednesday night at East Junior High School.

Groups without leaders are Brownie Troop 35, which meets at Horace Mann School, and Intermediate Troop 68, which meets at the Boyce Methodist Auditorium.

It was announced experience is not necessary as there will be a training session for new leaders, along with help from the East End service team.

Mrs. Raymond Galloway, chairman, presided. Mrs. Donna Perkins and Mrs. Jean Kidder were named new leaders of the Brownie Troop which meets at the Klondyke School.

Following discussion, the group voted not to change the regular meeting night, which is the third Wednesday.

Mrs. Josephine Spencer and Mrs. Galloway will be chairmen for the annual Juliette Low observance in October.

Mrs. Perkins was named chairman for the calendar sale to begin Oct. 9.

A display of basketry, copper tooling and mosaic tile, made at the "Arts and Crafts" workshop at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville, was inspected. The sessions were extended for another Wednesday as many of the projects were not completed.

None Hurt As Fire, Explosions Hit Plant

ST. MARYS, W. Va. (AP) — Fire and two explosions rocked the Quaker State Oil Refining Co. plant early today. No one was reported injured.

Two men died last Jan. 14 in a similar fire and blast at the plant's filter house across a small stream from the latest scene.

Flames of undetermined origin broke out in one of six "run-off" tanks containing by-products. The other five tanks were believed in danger.

Driver

was halted on E. 4th St. at Walnut St., where there is a four-way stop, when Phillips drove west across the intersection and sideswiped the left side of the Klondyke man's auto. The left fender, door and quarter panel of Hopper's car were damaged, officers said.

When police arrived to investigate, Phillips' car was sitting driverless on the street. They ordered it towed to a service station.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff castigated Phillips severely for fleeing the accident.

He termed it "a cowardly act" and said Phillips' "conduct was most reprehensible."

"Although you were involved in an accident, you took off without stopping to see if anyone was injured," he said. "You compounded your misbehavior when you conceived the idea of reporting your car stolen. You are fortunate the charge was not filed under the state code because that would have given me the right to send you to jail."

Police said their records show Phillips was arrested here in 1959 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Questioned by the judge, Phillips said he was fined and jailed in the 1959 case.

The Stratton Dam reported a high of 80 degrees Wednesday afternoon and a morning low of 68.

P. S. Fall is due officially Saturday at 2:43 a. m.

Episcopal Group Tours Detroit's Massive Plants

DETROIT (AP)— After putting new steam into a move for Christian reunion, the legislative machinery of the Episcopal Church today ground to a halt—for a look at some other kinds of machinery.

Nearly 1,000 representatives of the church from across the country—bishops, pastors, theologians and lay delegates—headed into the whirring labrynth of Detroit's industrial empire.

Their purpose: To hunt clues on how the church can break out of its parochial walls into the mass — organized, mechanized world that has engulfed much of modern American life.

The tour came after the House of Bishops Wednesday swept through a dramatic measure aimed at uniting a wide range of American churches, including at least four other denominations.

The Rev. Charles Kampmeyer, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. The bride wore a full - length gown of white silk organza designed with a chapel train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves and a V - piped waistline. Her queen's crown held a fingertip veil of silk illusion.

She wore net mitts and carried a white satin-covered Bible, topped with an arrangement of gardenias and lace and satin streamers. She observed the traditions and carried a sixpence in her shoe.

Miss J. Rhea Nile, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a silk organza dress in emerald green, featuring a straight neckline, three - quarter-length sleeves and full skirt. Matching mitts, Dior bows and Shantung slippers completed her costume.

Miss Grace Culp, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Carol Keener of Salem and Miss Karen Israel of Damascus were bridesmaids. They appeared in ensembles identical to that of the maid of honor, except in gold organza.

Bruce Brown of Pittsburgh was best man. Ushers were R. Hugh Nile Jr., brother of the bride; David A. Baldwin, her brother-in-law; Robert Culp, brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Rudder, his brother-in-law.

Tempest Series Goes On Display

The Tempest went on display today at M. & A. Motors, 1273 Pennsylvania Ave.; Johnson Pontiac Sales, 241 Wells Ave., Wellsville, and Ludovici Pontiac Sales, Inc., 6th St. and Carolina Ave., Chester.

Originally, the Tempest series was comprised of a four-door sedan and a four-door Safari station wagon and later was expanded to include a two-door coupe and a two-door sports coupe having a sportier rear window and custom interior option.

As America's only front engine-rear transmission production car, the 1962 Tempest models are quieter, smoother performing and have new exterior and interior styling, with substantial improvements in performance, ride, handling, durability, serviceability, automatic transmissions and accessories.

The grille has been restyled completely to give the Tempest front end and entirely new look. A new emblem ornaments the rear deck lid on all Tempest models and a new Pontiac nameplate is located just above the rear bumper.

Both the Tempest custom coupe and the convertible include door-to-door carpeting on the floor and are available with the Le Mans option consisting of bucket front seats, a carpet padded scuff panel inserted along the lower edge of the doors and a special instrument panel moulding bearing the Le Mans nameplate.

Plans for a fall membership drive were discussed and committees set up.

Judge Louis Tobin, advisory; Miss Elizabeth Coleman, finance and budget; Cornell Monda, the center's psychologist, annual dinner meeting; Ernest John, fund-raising; Mrs. Lilyan Alpern, speakers' bureau; Arthur Thomas, publicity.

Bake announced that Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools and an executive with the center, and Russell Hall, insurance executive, will assist him in the membership drive scheduled to get under way in November.

Mrs. Smith called on the various committee chairmen to enlarge their groups by calling on individuals not connected with the center to participate. She pointed out such procedure would enlarge the scope of the center's activities and make more people conscious of the work that is being done.

Haan, who says his information comes from inside Communist territory, submitted to President Kennedy Sept. 9 information which said Khrushchev had advised Red Chinese leader Mao Tze-Tung of the powerful new rocket and that the space platform was being built.

the elder Kennedy's summer home to ride out the storm.

Other evacuees, Civil Defense reported, were at least 20 families from a lowlying area in Falmouth, also on Cape Cod.

Southern New England geared for a heavy rainfall with flash flooding in many places.

The slowdown of Esther, the Weather Bureau said, meant it would not reach southern Cape Cod until afternoon.

At Fairhaven, Mass., near New Bedford, about 1,000 families, totaling 4,000 persons, were evacuated to higher-ground shelters.

New York Escapes Hurricane's Fury

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Esther slammed past the eastern end of Long Island this morning, lashing out with winds above 100 miles an hour. But the effect on the island and in the populous metropolitan area appeared to have been mild.

The most serious consequences listed in first reports were power failures affecting several thousand homes, flooding of highways, broken windows, downed signboards and trees, and a few minor injuries to individuals.

Fallout

designed to get better estimates than heretofore of the actual amount of radioactive iodine-131 which may be present in air samples.

Road Project Plans Aired

Moundsville, district engineer for the State Road Commission, and Robert Jenkins, in charge of programming and planning for Ohio Division 11.

McKenna gave a review of the continuing project in which a new Route 7 eventually will be built from Clarington north to East Liverpool. He mentioned work in Bellaire, Martins Ferry, Brilliant, Mingo Junction, Steubenville, Toronto, Empire and Stratton.

The Wellsville Route 7 relocation still is pending, McKenna explained, because Council has not acted on the State Highway Department's plans.

Johnkoski referred in general terms to a study which he said is under way in an effort to clear up Chester traffic congestion. However, he did not refer specifically to the Route 30 Hill problem or the Chester congestion resulting from heavy traffic to Waterford Park Race Track.

He said the State Road Commission is making a study and hopes to make recommendations, but he did not indicate what solution it will propose.

Johnkoski said a consulting engineer now is preparing plans for relocation of West Virginia Route 2 starting two miles south of Follansbee in Brooke County and extending to a point south of New Cumberland. He did not define the exact limits of the project.

He also said his department expects to start work soon on construction of a two-mile section of Route 22 from the Pennsylvania state line to a point near the Weirton Steel Co. offices overlooking Weirton.

Klucher said Pennsylvania authorities are investigating the need to construct a four-lane highway from the Penn - Lincoln Parkway west to a point near Raccoon Creek State Park. He also referred to the proposed bridge across the Ohio River between Midland and Shippingport and said a promise of financial support from Beaver County commissioners is the only factor that is holding up a start on the job.

There was a lengthy discussion on the so-called Route 22 bypass in the Steubenville area, affecting all three states. The consensus of opinion of the officials from the three states was that the project probably will not be finished for three to five years, although certain sections may be completed before that time.

West Virginia officials said their portion of the three - state link may be completed in three years. The big delaying factor is inability to reach a decision on site of a new bridge that will carry the highway across the river at Steubenville, they agreed.

McKenna said an engineering report has been completed on relocation of Route 22 between Cambridge and Steubenville. Eleven miles of the stretch is under construction — bypassing Cadiz and Hopedale — and completion is scheduled by the end of October, he said.

The next phase will take the new road from Hopedale east and around Steubenville, he said. Tentative plans call for the highway to pass about a mile north of Steubenville, but the plans still are being reviewed, he said.

Concrete Poured On Span Of Freeway

The first concrete was poured Wednesday for the roadway of the elevated structure that will carry the new West End-California Hollow Freeway over the four-lane section of W. 8th St.

Baker & Hickey, Inc., of Columbus, whose contract includes construction of the structures, finished work on the first pour about 8:30 last night. In about a week, forms will be in place and other preparations will be complete for the second of three pours.

Chapin & Chapin, Inc., of Norwalk, the other prime contractor for the $6 million job, expects it will pour its first concrete for the highway proper within the next two weeks. Ed Smalley, the firm's paving superintendent, arrived in East Liverpool Wednesday from Portsmouth after completing work on a new section of Route 52.

Jurors Excused As Man Changes Plea On Charges

A scheduled jury trial for a man accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol was called off today in Municipal Court after the defendant switched his plea to "no contest" and asked to be heard by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The defendant is Paul Victor Dawson, 1948 Dresden Ave. Ext., who was cited by the State Highway Patrol after his auto struck a big earth hauler Aug. 9 just north of the city limits at a freeway construction crossing. Dawson's wife was injured and his car was demolished. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment.

Judge Chertoff heard prosecution testimony today from Patrolman N. K. Myers, who filed the charge. Then he continued the case until Friday for imposition of sentence after hearing a number of character witnesses scheduled to take the stand for the defense.

The 30 prospective jurors were notified Wednesday by Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor that they were excused from the case. Atty. George A. Aronson is defense counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark represents the prosecution.

Lisbon Firm Listed For 'Identical Bids'

LISBON The H. K. Porter Co.'s electrical insulator plant here was listed among Ohio firms seeking business with the federal government which congressional investigators say submitted identical bids.

Three Ohio firms were listed. The report said the Thomas Works of Porter's Delta Star Division here and the Ohio Brass Co. at Mansfield submitted identical bids in several instances on large lots of suspension insulators.

"Based on past experience, it is possible that some funds may be available later, and you are advised to proceed with planning so as to be in a position to accept the grant and commence construction," he concluded.

Dominick Cerrone of A. R. Todd Associates of Wheeling, engineers who have done the preliminary survey work for the plant, told Council he did not know why the request for the aid was turned down. "There was not another thing to be done except for resubmitting the previous application for the grant," he said.

Council agreed to request the Sanitary Board to resubmit the application for aid again in 1962.

The city had filed for the grant four times, but the first request was not considered because the forms were not complete.

Mayor Ray Collins said he will call a meeting of the Sanitary Board soon to meet with Todd or Cerrone concerning plans for the plant.

Cerrone asked Council if members would care to change the filtering plans for the disposal plant. He said if an indoor sludge filter would be used instead of open sludge beds, plant odors would be eliminated.

John Auerbach of Dunn St. asked Council why a 120-foot section of Dunn St. between Carolina Ave. to Rose Alley was not sealed during recent street improvement.

Councilman Harry Davis said all the street work that could be done with the funds available was done, and improvement of Dunn St. will have to be undertaken later.

Council took no action on a proposal by Donald Chaney of Carolina Ave. to name a Chester committee to meet with groups from Weirton and New Cumberland and seek legislation on returning to municipalities some of the state gasoline tax.

The other communities plan to urge representatives in the legislature to enact a law which would allot 1 cent of the 7-cent state gas tax to the communities. Chaney estimated Chester would net $15,000 annually.

Mayor Collins reported on a meeting with Monongahela Power Co. officials concerning recent complaints that street light repairs and bulb replacements were not being done as fast as possible.

Mayor Collins reported Walter Jordan, utility manager, said the street lights are checked each week and lights are replaced when residents report faulty bulbs.

2 Georgetown Area Men Hurt In Wreck

Two Georgetown R. D. 1 men were hurt when their car ran off Route 30 and down a 20-foot embankment Wednesday at 10:15 p. m. about a mile east of Hillendale.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Herbert Weese, the driver, received a broken right leg and a laceration over his right eye, and Elmer Garn, a passenger, received lacerations over his right eye and of the right ear.

Both were taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital at McKees Rocks. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Maris Falls Short By One; Yankees Clinch AL Pennant

'I Tried,' Roger Says; 2 Shots Go Foul

ROGER MARIS
Nobody Ever Tried Harder.

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Roger Maris' relentless assault on Babe Ruth's hallowed home run record ended in defeat Wednesday night, but in no way could it be interpreted as a failure.

The left-handed slugger, battling against almost impossible odds, missed matching the immortal Bambino's 60 homers in a 154-game season by the narrowest of margins—just one.

Trailing by two home runs with just one more game remaining, playing in a park which had throttled him in all 26 previous efforts, Maris not only walloped his 59th home run of the season but came breathlessly close to smashing two more.

Had the two he barely missed been fair instead of feet foul, the crew-cut blond from Raytown, Mo., would have achieved the feat of the century.

Only two others had seriously threatened that mark — Jimmy Foxx with 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg with 58 in 1938.

The crowd of 21,032, naturally devoted to Ruth, a native Baltimorean, gave Maris, 27, a standing ovation after he had sent a dribbler down the first base line on a checked swing in his last try.

"I tried," he said later. "I didn't quite make it, but I tried."

And how Maris tried.

In the third inning, with Pappas still on the mound, he smashed a 2-1 pitch, a sort of high liner, into the right field bleachers, about 390 feet from the plate. The homer electrified the audience, which realized he still had at least two more cracks at homer No. 60.

Dick Hall, another right-hander, was on the mound when Maris came to bat in the fourth. With an 0-2 count, Roger whacked a liner which landed in the stands, about eight feet foul and some 15 feet short of the right field bleachers. Many in the crowd, on his side by that time, groaned.

Again in the seventh, Maris flirted with fame when he hit a long drive deep into the right field bleachers. This one was about 20 to 25 feet foul.

Now it was the ninth. There were two out. Hoyt Wilhelm was on the mound.

He never got that "one good swing."

The ball struck the bat and dribbled down the first base line. Wilhelm fielded the ball himself and tagged the dejected Maris just off first base.

"I'm glad it's over," Maris said later. "It's a great relief. But I'm disappointed it had to end this way. If I wasn't going to make it, at least I wanted to go down swinging.

Most Serious HR Threat To Babe Ends At 59

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris strode to the plate in the top of the ninth, dug in and fouled the first pitch by knuckleball specialist Hoyt Wilhelm back of the plate. Wilhelm wound up again, let go and Maris tried to check his swing. He couldn't.

The ball trickled down the first base line.

On that note ended the most serious threat to Babe Ruth's 60-homer record of 1927 as Maris, who had hit No. 59 in the third inning, failed in his final chance to tie baseball's most prized record under the 154-decision edict of Commissioner Ford Frick.

All eyes were on Maris while he took his final shots at the Babe's mark in Baltimore, where the Yankees clinched their 26th American League pennant by whipping the Orioles 4-2 Wednesday night.

"I wanted to get three good swings whether I hit it or not," said Maris in the dressing room while expressing regret over his last time at bat. "The way it turned out, I didn't get one. I would have liked to have taken a full swing."

Thus Maris joins a long list of homer hammerers who have come within range of Ruth's record, but failed. Roger, however, tied Ruth's mark of 59 in 1921. He became only the second man in major league baseball history to hit that many and still has eight games under the expanded schedule in which to match or surpass Ruth's total.

The honor of clinching the Yanks 11th pennant in the last 13 years went to Ralph Terry (15-3) who got the job done for the second year in a row with a four-hitter that made Ralph Houk the first rookie manager in 15 years to win a major league flag.

The last American League first year pilot to do it was Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers in 1934.

The Yankees wrapped it up with a three-run rally in the third started by Maris' homer off Milt Pappas (12-9). Yogi Berra then followed with a homer and a single by Johnny Blanchard and Elston Howard's double finished off the outburst for a 4-0 lead.

The Detroit Tigers remained well ahead of the Orioles in the battle for second place in the AL by beating Los Angeles 6-3 when Chico Fernandez stroked a bases-loaded double that featured a four-run tie-breaking rally in the seventh inning.

Chicago's Ray Herbert defeated Boston 3-1 with a seven-hitter, and Bobby DelGreco hit a two-run homer in the ninth that gave Kansas City a 4-2 win over Cleveland in other games. Minnesota-Washington was rained out.

Central To Bring Aerial Show

Fornsaglio, Gilday Top Pass Team

A fearsome passing combination, a heavy line and two impressive victories under their belts are three reasons why the Steubenville Central Crusaders will rate odds-on favorites when they come to East Liverpool Friday night.

The contest at Patterson Field, which will serve as East Liverpool's home opener, will mark the 11th between the two schools. Central came away with a 34-14 victory last season. The Potters last won in 1959, taking a 6-2 decision on a muddy field. Kickoff time Friday is 7:45.

The passing of "Slingin" Sammy Fornsaglio (160) already has wrecked two Central opponents and observers report the Steubenville quarterback hasn't thrown a poor pass yet. None of his tosses has been intercepted.

He threw for three of Central's four touchdowns in a 27-0 win over Columbus Aquinas and pitched for the same number in a 64-0 opening game victory against Cleveland St. John's Cantius.

On the receiving end of three touchdown aerials has been speedy Jim Gilday, a favorite target, who has a total of six touchdowns to his credit. Gilday ran 62 yards against Columbus last Saturday night and hauled in a pair of scoring throws. The 160-pounder will start at right half.

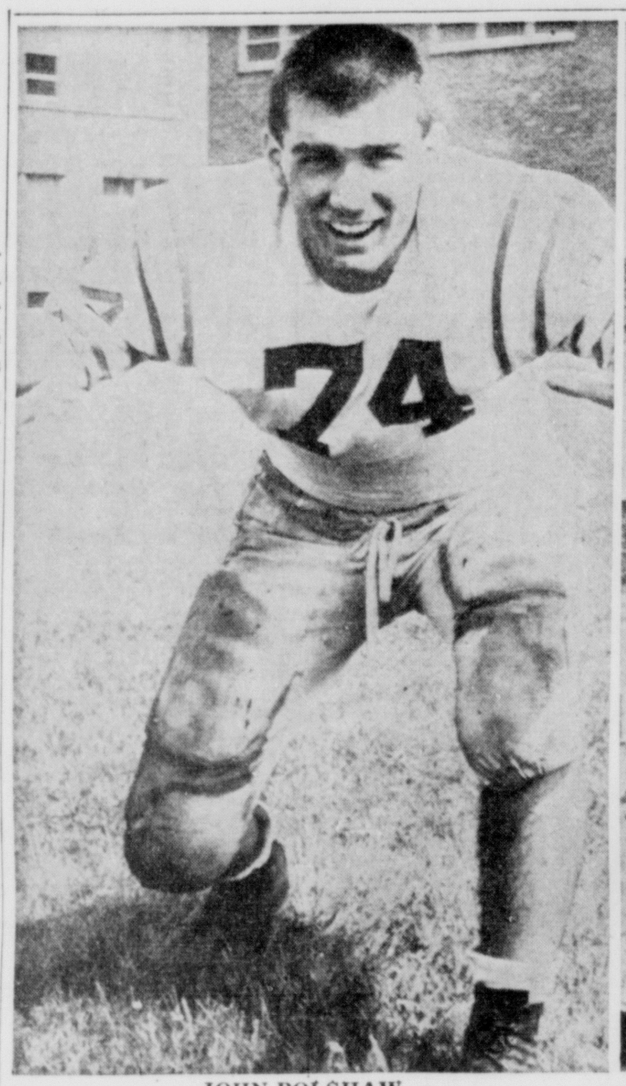
Another 220-pounder who will balance the line is Bob Bowers, slated for the left tackle spot. Ed Szypulski (160) will be at left guard, with Pete Bonitatibus (165) at center.

A rugged defensive man is Bob Hagerty at 220. He was the standout in Steubenville's last start. He will be in the middle of the Crusader line.



JOHN POLSHAW
Central's 220-Pound Tackle Is Co-Captain.

JIM GILDAY
Fornsaglio's Favorite Target Has 6 TD's.

Record Field Entered In 'Jug' Race Today

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The largest field in history goes today after $70,000 in the 16th Little Brown Jug classic for 3-year-old pacers.

Odds-makers have Lang Hanover, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, a 2-1 choice in the 10-horse first division. Henry T. Adios is rated a 3-1 favorite to win the second in which nine horses meet.

Nicklaus Heads U.S. Team In Cup Matches

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, two-time National Amateur champion, headed a seven-man team chosen today to represent the U.S. against Canada and Mexico in the sixth American Cup golf matches Oct. 21-22 in Monterrey City, Mexico. Named with Nicklaus were Deane Beman, Bill Hyndman, Charlie Coe, Bob Gardner, Charlie Smith, and Dud Wysong.

Fan Refuses To Give Up Ball Maris Hit For 59th

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 32-year-old Baltimorean made a head-long dive in Memorial Stadium Wednesday night for a baseball that may become a collector's item. Or just a conversation piece.

Bob Reitz, an unemployed machine operator, outhustled dozens of other right-field bleacher fans to nab the ball which Roger Maris of the New York Yankees slugged into the seats for his 59th homer of the season.

The homer came in New York's 154th team decision of the season —the limit which Commissioner Ford Frick imposed on anyone taking a crack at Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 set in 1927.

But the Yanks have eight more games to play under the expanded 162-game schedule this season, and if Maris hits another homer the market value of the ball owned by Reitz will diminish considerably.

Soon after running down the elusive ball, Reitz indicated he would be happy to exchange the ball for two World Series tickets and an all-expenses-paid trip to all series games in New York.

Maris, who met Reitz under the stands between innings, nixed the offer personally, and the fan returned to his seat.

"Maris shook my hand and posed for pictures," Reitz told newsmen. "Then he called for someone in the clubhouse to bring out another ball. I knew what he wanted to do—autograph another one in exchange for mine. I said 'never mind' and kept the ball."

Post's HR Gives Jay 21st Win

Cincy's Lead Remains At 5; LA Tops Cubs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those amazing Cincinnati Reds, a questionable product in the National League race when the season began, have gone methodically about the business of trying to nail down their first pennant in 21 years with a potent patent on winning one-run games.

The Reds did it again Wednesday night, edging the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 on Wally Post's two-run homer in the eighth inning for their eighth victory in the last nine games and a 34-14 won-lost record in one-run games.

The victory went to right-hander Joey Jay (21-8), the only NL pitcher with 20 wins, and reduced the Reds' magic pennant-clinching number to four over second-place Los Angeles. The Dodgers also won by a single run, nipping Chicago 3-2 in 13 innings.

Milwaukee beat San Francisco 7-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 6-1 in other games.

Post's 20th homer came with Vada Pinson on base via a walk and brought the Reds from behind to beat the Pirates and reliever Elroy Face (6-11).

The Dodgers, beaten two nights in a row by the seventh-place Cubs, remained five games behind the first-place Reds by pushing the winning run across in the 13th when Wally Moon singled, reached second on a ground out, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Ron Fairly's two-out single.

Sandy Koufax (18-11) went the distance for the victory, striking out 15 for a 259 total this season, and moved within eight of tying the modern league record of 267 by Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants in 1903. Barney Schultz (7-6), third Chicago pitcher, was the loser.

8 Local Teams Remain Undefeated; Gridders Face Heavy 16-Game Card

The latest average shows eight out of the 17 teams in the district without a defeat as the third week of football rolls around for most schools.

Four local elevens sport 2-0 marks — Lisbon, Stanton Local, United and Salem — while Columbiana, which opened its season only last week, is 1-0.

Beaver Local, Leetonia and Salineville haven't tasted defeat yet, but all have one thing in common — a tie.

East Liverpool, after taking a week off from the football wars, faces another potential Ohio powerhouse in Steubenville Central, a rough and heavy squad which has easily stepped over two opponents.

The contest Friday night will mark the opening of the home season for the Potters, who took a 40-0 lacing at Niles two weeks ago.

Friday night also will find the Tri-County season opening with Lisbon, victorious over Carrollton and Wellsville, putting its unblemished mark on the line at Minerva.

Stanton Local, under its new coach Don McBride, plays at Irondale Friday night with Wayne the visiting team. Stanton, a power in basketball last season, is showing its stuff on the gridiron with successive victories over Hopedale and Mt. Pleasant.

Salem shouldn't have any trouble in registering its third win when Ravenna visits the Quaker City.

Columbiana, another Tri-County League member, also plays Saturday at Poland.

Beaver Local, which has the potential to become one of the strongest teams in the district, will meet a worthy foe in Union Local on Saturday night. Union from the Martins Ferry area, has won its first two starts. The Beaver Local-Union battle is set for Saturday night on the Beavers' gridiron. Kickoff has been moved up to 7 p. m.

Leetonia, which tied Beaver Local in its opener then defeated Rootstown last week, goes into Tri-County play Friday night at Louisville.

Meanwhile, Salineville after a week's rest, visits Springfield Friday. Coach Dick Jones' Indians played Greenford to a scoreless tie in its 1961 debut two weeks ago.

Three district teams are batting .500 in two starts. East Palestine awaits a visit from Sebring in another Tri-County contest. The Bulldogs are the defending champs.

South Side, a winner over Nashannock but a loser to Avella, jaunts down Route 30 for a meeting at Chester Friday night while New Cumberland visits Weirton Madonna.

Six local grid teams are still looking for their first in the win column. Wellsville, a team that looked potentially strong on paper before the season started, has failed to hit the winning side in two starts.

Coach Ken Woods team has dropped successive starts to Freedom and Lisbon but will be seeking its first victory at Toronto Friday night.

Midland, hit by injuries now after losing two straight, is a decided underdog in its meeting at Beaver Friday. Beaver is rated among the powers in Western Pennsylvania this season.

Newell is without a victory after two starts but will entertain Hopedale Friday. Chester, which plays host to South Side, has dropped two straight to United and Beaver Local.

Crestview, also winless in two games, travels to Lowellville on Saturday.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieters Can 'Save Face' While Reducing

Overweights who tend to lose "face first" are almost afraid to reduce, as in this case. . ."I'm in the fattening forties, 5 feet 3 and weigh 150 pounds, so you can see I need to reduce. But I have a thin face and do not want to lose there. How can I keep from losing in my face and from getting flabby as I reduce excess fat?" All those interested, tune in . . .

Ida Jean Kain

Overzealous dieters tend to keep the food almost at a semi-starvation level. The body is a working machine, and too little fuel makes for lethargy and laziness.

WHILE THE daily fare must be low enough in calories to force nature to draw on stored fat for part of the fuel needs, the nutrients required for keeping the body in a fine state of repair are needed in optimum amounts.

To lose a pound a week, subtract 500 calories from daily fare. Let's say you burn 2,000 calories daily, the estimated number for sedentary workers and push-button homemakers. Cut down to 1,500 calories by leaving off the fattening trimmings, gravy, cream sauces, and rich desserts.

With a thin face, it is best not to pare down too fine. Five pounds above the streamlined level gives a softer look. With gradual reducing you avoid the depleted look.

However, it's not only what is left out of the diet, but what is eaten daily that's important to health. Certain foods contribute more protection than others. Specifically, these are the foods which furnish high value protein, minerals and vitamins.

Make sure to have daily a pint of buttermilk or skim milk, ½ cup of cottage cheese, 4 ounces lean meat, fish or fowl, and an egg. These protein and mineral-rich foods take care of body repair work.

Vegetables, including dark green leafy or yellow, and fruits, including a citrus, furnish needed minerals and vitamins for tissue building and body regulating. These foods provide an abundance of replenishing nutrients.

DON'T NEGLECT exercise — not only does exercise enable you to burn more food, but toned muscles make for shapeliness and help you feel alive! Slim inches off the right places and restore live tone to the muscles.

Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Audrey Newtz Again Heads City GOP Women

Officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting of the East Liverpool Republican Women's Club Wednesday night at City Hall. Mrs. Audrey Newtz was returned as president.

Other officers are Mrs. Ruth Crawford, vice president; Miss Gladys Rhinehart, treasurer; Miss Mary Alice Lemal, recording secretary, and Mrs. Kristine Walker, corresponding secretary.

The nominating committee included Mrs. Gertrude Reese, chairman, Mrs. Lydia Crawford and Miss Olive Williamson.

State Rep. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, guest speaker, hit at the speech delivered Monday by Gov. Michael DiSalle at the Democrats' Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner at Beaver Local High School.

Bettis said DiSalle has been in office two years but has not moved Ohio up one notch in national ratings, commenting "the state will not be led out of the wilderness by such leadership."

He also accused the governor of "forever getting into the taxpayer's pocket" and hit at his excessive spending.

Bettis said the inflated budget was adopted to pad the payroll, charging DiSalle has added at least 7,000 to the payroll.

Forty-seven were present. Mrs. Newtz conducted business. Miss Gladys DeBolt, county chairman, reported on various county projects and activities. She also discussed the Republican Women's Council and invited all to attend the next luncheon Oct. 18 at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

The local club will hold a joint meeting with the Men's Republican Club in October. A "meet-your-candidates" program will be presented.

The club will meet next Wednesday night at 7:30.

Virus Infection Hits Buckeye Grid Squad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The recent wave of virus infections to sweep over Ohio State's training football team is beginning to get to Coach Woody Hayes.

Although more than a dozen players are out of action—most of them recovering from the virus—Hayes believes all will be ready for the Bucks opener Sept. 30 against Texas Christian.

Joining the sick list Wednesday was All-America fullback Bob Ferguson who suffered a minor injury.

President Sets Plan To Divulge Secret Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has set up a system for automatically taking the secrecy wraps off a considerable amount of classified government material.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who along with newspaper editor groups has frequently criticized excessive governmental secrecy, said the action Wednesday was "a major improvement in the information protection system."

Moss, chairman of the House Information subcommittee, and newspaper groups have protested that classified labels sometimes are used by government officials to conceal mistakes or policies that should be made public.

Moss said the system was recommended by his group three years ago and supported by the American Society of Newspaper Editors and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

The executive order provides for downgrading the secrecy classification of documents at regular intervals, or sooner if officials decide they no longer need special protection.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the details of the system were worked out by an interdepartmental committee on internal security after a long study of government classification methods.

Lisbon Kindergarten Classes To Be Moved

LISBON — Supt. Russell Armitage said kindergarten classes will be moved to the Methodist Church Monday, making three classes outside school property this term.

The change authorized by the Board of Education had to be made after the two second grade classes of 56 pupils, now in the gymnasium at McKinley School, was found unsatisfactory. Beginning Monday, one second grade will be moved to the kindergarten room and the other will remain in the gymnasium.

Residents will vote on a bond issue Nov. 7 for an addition of 14 rooms at McKinley School. The proposal failed by small margin in the May primary.

LISBON — The Co-operative Office Education Club of Lisbon High School will hold a record hop Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. in the gymnasium with Johnny Mitchell, disc jockey, spinning the records.

55th Traffic Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's 1961 traffic death toll stood at 55 today. The coroner has ruled Garnet Knepper, 53, of suburban North Olmsted died Tuesday of injuries suffered when his car hit a utility pole on the West Side. There were 68 traffic fatalities in the city at this time last year.

New Traffic Laws Aired For Firemen

New traffic regulations and highway safety rules were reviewed by State Highway Patrolmen Ralph Reed and Walter Jones of the Lisbon Barracks at a meeting of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday night at the North Georgetown fire station. Forty-six attended.

Jones discussed the procedures to be followed by emergency equipment on the highways. He said the drivers of such equipment must obey all laws pertaining to the highway. If a fire truck is involved in an accident while en route to a fire, it cannot leave the scene.

En route back from a fire, a truck is the same as a passenger car, he said. New laws also were reviewed. Firemen were informed licenses cannot be transferred from one car to another, the fine for littering a highway is $25 to $50 with a jail sentence up to 30 days or both, that three-quarter ton trucks or smaller with farm licenses now can be used as passenger vehicles to and from work, that after 1962 all automobiles must be equipped with connections for seat belts, and that autoists must turn on their driving lights a half hour after sunset and must keep them on until a half hour after sunrise. Vehicles no longer can drive in the evening or early morning with just parking lights.

Firemen voted to change the constitution to elect new officers in November instead of July. The secretary-treasurer may be reelected but other officers can not succeed themselves.

New School Bonds Sold

The Pennsylvania State Public School Building Authority has sold bonds to finance 13 new school projects, including one at South Side High School near Hookstown, estimated to cost $586,720.

The authority at Harrisburg reported the sale of $25,893,000 School Lease Revenue Bonds, Series F, to an investment group headed by Drexel & Co. and Associates. The net interest cost to the authority is 3.68536 per cent.

An investment group led by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc. and Associates submitted the only other bid constituting a net interest of 3.70960 per cent.

Elliott Falk, executive director of the authority, said proceeds will be used by the authority to finance a group of 13 new school projects and to refinance the construction or completion of other projects previously undertaken.

Falk said construction of the new schools will begin as soon as (1) the settlement of the bond sale scheduled for Oct. 25; (2) titles to sites on which the schools are to be built are transferred to the authority; (3) local school boards' architects complete plans and specifications for the new structures, and (4) construction contracts are bid and awarded.

Other projects and their cost include Northwestern Beaver County Joint, $479,572 and three in the Burgettstown Area, Washington County, of $135,585.30, $101,314.66 and $187,305.40.

The project planned at South Side High School includes 10 classrooms and additions to the diningroom, kitchen, cafeteria and locker room.

B. J. McCandless of Ellwood City is the architect.

Deferment Held As Unlikely For Reserves, Guards

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you've been called to active duty as a reservist or National Guardsman your chance of getting a deferment now isn't very good.

Except for extreme hardship cases—and these must be documented—it appears few men are likely to stay behind when their units muster starting in a few days.

The grounds for deferment have been laid down by the Defense Department and are generally common to reserve components of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Officers noted that even when no callup is imminent, reserve and guard elements are supposed to screen personnel as to whether they should be moved back to the standby reserve, which is not subject to call except in a dire national emergency.

Thus, the officers said, a reservist who holds a critical job or a student who plans to attend college should by this time have taken steps to get out of the ready reserve.

Some reservists in this group, the officers said, have been staying in their units and drawing drill pay while taking their chances on not being called up.

The Labor Department lists more than 80 critical occupations—from agronomists to veterinarians—rated as eligible for deferment consideration.

Also among those eligible are college students studying in fields that will qualify them for critical occupations.

Another category takes in men whose callup would result in "extreme personal or community hardship." Enlisted men having four or more dependents normally would be considered as meeting the hardship qualification, the regulations say.

Funds Urged For 2 Flood Control Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money for planning on two additional Ohio projects has been recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee in a House - approved program of flood control, navigation and reclamation project development for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The Ohio projects, and the money recommended for the planning stage, are: Cesar Creek Reservoir, $10,000, and East Fork Reservoir, $10,000.

Shower Regulation For Girls Is Lifted

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Boys at the city's four high schools still are required to take showers after their gym classes, but the girls can make up their own minds on the matter.

Dr. Sanford F. Jameson, schools superintendent, said Wednesday he lifted the regulation for girls because of numerous complaints from parents.

Pee Wee Reese played on more losing World Series teams than any big leaguer in history. He was with the Brooklyn Dodgers when they were humiliated six times.

Girl Faces 6 Months In Cast After 2 Operations On Spine

A 14-year-old East End girl already disabled for six years after a severe polio attack will enter Youngstown South Side Hospital Sept. 30 for two operations to correct spinal curvature, then lie immobile for six to nine months in a cast extending from her shoulders to her hips.

As she awaits the latest in a series of ordeals stretching back to September 1955, there's mingled worry and hope in the mind of Norma Ice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ice, 843 Valley Ave.

Norma is worried because the long convalescence means she will fall behind in her studies at Horace Mann School, where she attends eighth grade classes in a wheelchair.

And she hopes that somehow she will be able to obtain a television set to help while away the long hours flat on her back in bed—enforced idleness that will stretch at least until March and may continue until June.

Norma has known for months that she would enter a hospital eventually for two spinal fusions to help correct the curvature that resulted from polio. Her fondest hope was that she could raise enough money to buy a TV set to keep her company.

Working in her wheelchair, the little girl put in the entire summer weaving potholders on a miniature loom. She sold the potholders for 25 cents each. Persons aware of the reason for her project bought the potholders in wholesale quantities, particularly the clerks in a downtown department store where she acquired her materials.

But after the long summer's work, Norma cleared only about $25, far short of the amount she needs to buy the television set. Mrs. Ice said that renting a set is out of the question. At the rate of $1 to $1.50 a day charged at the hospital, Norma's $25 would be gone quickly.

Labor Day marked the sixth anniversary of the date Norma was stricken. In addition to paralyzing her legs and affecting her back, the polio damaged her abdominal muscles.

Until early this summer, Norma was able to walk with the aid of 14-pound braces on her legs. But she has been unable to war the braces for months because of a severe cyst that appeared at the bottom of her spine. The cyst interfered with the heavy canvas jacket strapped about her body to help support the braces.

She entered the South Side Hospital June 26 for surgery for removal of the cyst. Just a week ago she was released from the doctor's care in the treatment of the cyst. But she still is unable to wear the braces and must get about in a wheelchair.

And Tuesday, she got the word from the physician that she would enter the hospital Sept. 30.

That's when she cried — because she will miss most of this term of school and because she has been unable to make enough potholders to buy herself a TV set.

Norma will be in a cast and under observation for the first four days after she is admitted to the hospital. Then the first of two spinal fusion operations will be performed. The second will follow in about 10 days.

She will remain in the hospital eight to 10 weeks. Then she will be returned to her home for the balance of the six-to nine-month stay in the heavy cast. The long convalescence is required to assure that the spinal fusions will adhere properly.

Norma makes the trip to Horace Mann School faithfully every day, riding in a car and taking her wheelchair along to help her get about inside the building.

Man Kills Wife, Father-In-Law

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — A domestic quarrel has ended in gunfire and death for a 19-year-old expectant wife and her father. Police are holding the dead woman's husband.

Officers said Fred Margarcelli, 17, of Crabtree, went to his mother-in-law's home near this Westmoreland County community Wednesday to persuade his wife to move to his mother's home at Crabtree to await the birth of the baby.

When Margarcelli entered the home, he found his wife, Judy Ann, sitting on a couch in the living room with her 11-year-old brother. Also in the room were Judy Ann's father, Elmer Shepler, 41; Shepler's wife, Dorothy, and another Shepler child.

Police said Margarcelli whipped out a .22 caliber pistol and shot his wife three times. Shepler, according to police, tried to take the gun from him and was shot twice.

Board To Get Charter Plan

Atty. Lozier Caplan, chairman of the Salem Charter Commission, has advised the County Election Board the text of a proposed charter for operation of Salem's municipal government will be certified to the board next Tuesday for a place on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The deadline for filing the lengthy proposal is next Wednesday, Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, pointed out.

The charter proposal has been drafted by a 15-member commission which Salem voters elected a year ago. It follows the so-called "federal plan." The principal proposals call for a four-year term for the mayor, continues a two-year term for Council and calls for creation of the post of finance officer who would assume the duties of both the auditor and the treasurer.

If the majority of Salem voters approve, Salem will switch its government to operation under the charter. Any Ohio city is governed under provisions of the state code laying down the duties of municipal officers unless it adopts a charter providing for a different method of operation.

Meanwhile, the Board of Education of the Fairfield - Waterford School District has advised the board it expects to seek a vote on a 1-mill operating levy.

The deadline for filing proposals for the Nov. 7 general election ballot has passed, but law permits the school board to request a special election to be held on the same date. A 55 per cent affirmative vote would be required for approval.

Hammondsville PTA Plans Drive

HAMMONDSVILLE — Plans to hold a membership drive Oct. 1-7 were completed by the Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting Monday night in the school.

Named to an auditing committee were Mrs. Eva Parsons, Mrs. Marilyn Furbee and Mrs. Joann Wilson. The group will be represented at the Jefferson County PTA Council meetings by Mrs. Shirley Rhodes and Mrs. Shirley Plunkett, president.

Members voted to bring equipment for a community playlot to the school for use by the older children and to repair a sliding-board and paint present equipment.

The first and second grades of Mrs. Lena Crook and Mrs. Marie Myers' third and fourth grades tied for the attendance banner.

The program featured a discussion by Ronald Delaney, instructor, on special training required for some students. A question-and-answer period followed.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Albert T. Flitcraft, 27, of Minerva R.D. 1 forfeited a $20 appearance bond in Mayor Dean Stockman's court Tuesday evening on a charge of operating an unsafe truck. It drifted from its parking place Monday, striking three parking meters, a utility pole and two highway markers.

School Song Written For South Side High

Words for the new Alma Mater of South Side High School near Hookstown have been written by Howard Howarth, instrumental music director.

The words to the tune of "Aura Lee", the official tune of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, were heard at a pep meeting Friday and later at half-time of the South Side-Avella football game.

Howarth, who attended Geneva College, Duquesne University and the Manhattan School of Music, felt the school needed an Alma Mater to create a more unifying organization.

If you use tenderizer on lamb shanks they'll be sure to be tender. Toast them in a slow oven —about 1½ hours if each shank weighs about a pound.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Seven years ago I married a man whose wife died in childbirth. His little girl, Linda, was 2 years old at the time of our marriage. Tom's sister took the baby when she was a week old. He pays $50 a month for her keep.

Now Tim and I have two daughters of our own. When Linda comes to visit us weekends it's an endless battle. She's sloppy, ill-mannered and tries to boss my two. The girl is very much overweight and sneaks candy and pop behind my back.

Linda says she wants to live with us all the time because our house is prettier than her aunt's, there are better things to eat here and more to do in our neighborhood. I'm afraid she'll cause nothing but trouble in our family and I don't want her. Tom says it's up to me.

Of course I feel guilty but what shall I do?—TINA.

Dear Tina: This unfortunate child needs love and understanding. She would get neither in your home.

You are not sufficiently wise nor mature to accept the challenge of coping with Linda. I suggest that you make an appointment with an expert on problem children. When you gain some insight into Linda's emotional needs you may then reconsider.

Tight Tippers

Dear Ann: I work in one of the country's finest hotels. Something has been bugging me and maybe you can come up with the answer.

Why do certain people think it's all right to throw away thousands of dollars on the crap tables, stay in the fanciest suites, eat and drink like royalty, and then, when it comes to tipping, cheap out like nobody's business?

Some big shots give a bellhop four bits for handling two 60-pound bags and then flip the doorman two bits for parking a Lincoln Continental.

In the dining room their colors really show up. They are all the time trying to pick a fight with the waiter so they can use it as an excuse to leave a small tip—or none at all. What makes rich people so crummy?—LAS VEGAS.

Dear Vegas: Rich people aren't any crummier than anyone else. Generosity, stinginess, kindness and meanness are all human qualities which can show up in any person, regardless of the size of the bankroll.

To label all people of means as cheap and abusive is an unfair and inaccurate generalization.

Uniform For Maid

Dear Ann: The woman who comes to clean for me three days a week is about 40 years of age. She has a nice figure but she has a homely face.

Yesterday she showed up in a two-piece strapless outfit, midriff style. When she kneeled over to wipe up the kitchen floor she almost lost the top of her outfit. My husband thought this was very amusing.

I have lived in this country only two years. Is it proper to tell a woman who comes to clean what kind of dresses to wear? My husband says no. What do you say? —E.K.

Dear E.K.: Not only is it proper but in this case it seems urgent. Tell her a simple housedress will do. Some cleaning women wear uniforms. It might be nice if you bought her one.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Beaver High School Harvest Fair Waited

The annual Tri-State Harvest Fair, sponsored by the Beaver Local Boosters Club, will be held Friday and Saturday nights at the high school grounds near Williamsport.

The fair will feature booths and concessions, along with refreshment stands and amusement rides of Hecks Amusement Co.

George Gaydos of Route 7 is general chairman. Proceeds are to be used for booster projects.

Lee Kirkland, high school principal, said the Beaver Local football game with Union Local will begin Saturday night at 7 at the home field.

Get-Acquainted Meeting Held By Wellsville PTA

A get-acquainted meeting of teachers and parents was held Monday evening by the Wellsville McKinley Parent - Teacher Association.

Mrs. Jean Steffen, president, presided. Mrs. James Hale, first vice president, was installed by Mrs. Ethel Clark, third vice president of the Columbiana County PTA Council.

The group decided to have individual student pictures taken Oct. 20 and to hold a rummage sale Oct. 2-28. Place for the sale will be announced.

Mrs. Glayds Patterson, formerly of Wellsville and a teacher this year in East Liverpool schools, spoke on the school systems of Europe, where she taught a year.

Mrs. Everet Bunfill read a letter in the PTA bulletin from a teacher. The fourth grade room of Miss Isa Anderson won the attendance banner.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Geneva Gates, Mrs. Mickey Angellone and Mrs. Ann Bucher. Next meeting is Oct. 16.

'Painted' Windshields Seen Traffic Hazard

Huge numbers and letters painted on the windshields of autos on used car lots can prove a hazard when a potential customer takes one of the vehicles for a test drive, Police Chief Americo Radeschi warned dealers today.

The advertising signs, in removable paint, often cover such a wide area of the windshield that the driver's vision is obscured badly, the chief said. He said there has been several recent instances in which officers have halted a potential customer driving a dealer's car and pointed out the hazard of the obscured windshield.

Dealers who paint advertising on windshields should make certain vision is not obscured when allowing a car to be taken for a test drive, he said.

Wells Honor Society Elects New Officers

Officers for 1961-62 have been elected by the Nu Theta Chapter of the National Honor Society of Wells High School of Newell.

They are Mickey Staley, president; Carol Wurzel, vice president; Thelma Mehaffey, secretary; Elizabeth Hupp, treasurer; Anita Powell, reporter and Karen Duncan, representative of the Student Council.

The sponsors are Mrs. Carolyn Mountford and Miss Regina Wehner. Next meeting is Oct. 9 at noon at the school.

Tshombe, U.N. Group Sign Pact

Secession Dispute Still Unsettled In Strife-Torn Congo

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—An uneasy cease-fire was proclaimed today in embattled Katanga but the danger of civil war still hung over the Congo.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and the U.N. command signed a provisional cease-fire that froze the positions of their warring forces. Still unsettled is the issue that led to the shooting—Katanga's secession.

While a lull in the fighting was already evident before the peace pact was reached there were no immediate reports whether all shooting had stopped according to the timetable set for one minute past midnight.

A new threat came from the Congo central government, which has been a bystander during the eight days of fighting between the Katangan forces and U.N. troops acting at the government request.

With Tshombe as adamant as ever in keeping his mineral-rich province independent, Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula alerted the Congolese army with the declaration the central government would "spare no effort to end Katanga's secession."

Speaking in Leopoldville before the cease-fire was announced, Adoula warned his government "will reply to force with force."

The shadow of the late Patrice Lumumba hung over the Congo capital. Supporters of the slain leftist former premier demonstrated in the streets shouing anti-Western slogans, and Soviet diplomats, kicked out after Lumumba's overthrow, moved back to set up shop again.

The provisional cease-fire calling for a freeze in all military operations in Katanga was reached Wednesday night in a cordial but cool atmosphere on neutral grounds in this Northern Rhodesian frontier town.

Smiling and outwardly confident, Tshombe made the announcement first at a news conference. Mahmoud Khiari of Tunisia, who took over as chief U.N. negotiator after Dag Hammarskjold met his death in a plane crash flying to the peace talks, confirmed the agreement later.

Both sides emphasized that the agreement is subject to approval by U.N. headquarters in New York.

Esther Reported Weakening

Hurricane Losing Punch On Nearing New England

BULLETIN

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — Air Force meteorologists today reported, "The eye of hurricane Esther has closed. Winds are diminishing fast and Cape Cod may have no hurricane at all."

By The Associated Press

Hurricane Esther apparently lost some of her punch today as she approached Cape Cod and offshore Massachusetts islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard.

The Weather Bureau at Boston at 10 a.m., Eastern Daylight Time, said the hurricane had slowed down and was giving indication of a slight weakening.

The storm was centered about 50 miles south southeast of Block Island, R.I., at that time and was moving northeastward at about five miles an hour. Winds, however, were said to be about 100 miles an hour south of Cape Cod.

Hurricane warnings remain displayed from eastern Long Island, N.Y., to Eastport, Maine, with gale warnings to Cape May, N.J.

The hurricane watch was discontinued in Connecticut and in the New York City area.

No sustained hurricane winds were reported along the coasts of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine.

As a precaution, children in the summer compound of President Kennedy were removed at dawn to Otis Air Force Base, 18 miles away from Hyannis Port. Five cars were used to move the Kennedy vacationists who included the President's children, Caroline and John Jr.

The Secret Service requested they move.

Others leaving the Kennedy compound were the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; three of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford; and one of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy.

U.S.-Soviet Clash Seen On Red China U.N. Seat Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will address the United Nations General Assembly next Monday, the White House announced today.

Meanwhile, the U.S. and the Soviet Union were to come to grips today on the perennial issue of giving Red China a U.N. seat. For the first time in a decade both agree the General Assembly should debate the question.

The two big powers are sure to clash, however, when the 21-nation Steering Committee meets later in the day to decide how the explosive question shall be placed before the 99-nation assembly.

Still opposed to admitting the Peiping regime, the United States has agreed only to assembly debate on the issue.

The Red China issue was one of several serious cold war disputes that cropped up either on the agenda or in the background almost as soon as the assembly met Tuesday. Among others are Berlin, disarmament and the future of the United Nations itself. This last involves the task of choosing a successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, in the face of stern Soviet opposition.

In the Steering Committee, the United States is determined to block the Soviet demand that the United Nations recognize Peiping as rightful holder of the seat now occupied by Nationalist China.

The U.S. delegation announced support for a New Zealand proposal to debate the over-all question of who should represent China.

Ceramic Theater Acquired By City

The city officially acquired ownership of the Ceramic Theater today for $45,000, climaxing more than six months of negotiations and legislative action to clear the way for the towering old structure to be razed to make way for a municipal parking lot.

The deal was completed about noon when City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper turned over a check to Atty. Jason H. Brookes, representing the heirs of the Tallmate Estate, owner of the structure.

The city acted immediately to demolish the structure and convert the site to metered off-street parking.

SAFETY - SERVICE Director Robert Owen issued a call for contractors' bids to be received until noon Oct. 6 at City Hall for furnishing labor and material for demolishing the building.

He said each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $1,000 to guarantee the bidder will execute a contract if his offer is accepted.

Tallman Estate heirs have agreed to pay the real estate taxes for the first half of 1961, totaling $600.

When the check changed hands, the city immediately acquired title to the property, as the deed already has been signed by all nine heirs.

The city borrowed the funds on a note which later will be retired by the proceeds of a bond issue. The city expects to retire the bonds over a 10-year period with income from the lot.

The big check that completed the transaction was signed for the city by Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson.

FINAL ENABLING legislation for the deal was enacted by Council in mid-June and approved a few days later by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. The interval between the final authorization and the completion of the sale was occupied principally with title transactions, particularly a search to make certain the city would receive a clear deed for the property.

First public announcement of plans to acquire the theater was made in mid-March. At that time, Cooper advised Council that the Tallman heirs had accepted an offer of $45,000 for the building—climax of several months of negotiation.

The overall cost of the project is expected to be close to $60,000, with $15,000 set aside for razing the structure, leveling and surfacing the site and purchasing meters.

The Ceramic lot fronts 98 feet on E. 4th St. and is 130 feet deep. It is expected to provide spaces for about 40 autos.

WHEN THE city put out the first feelers on the property, the Tallman Estate indicated a price of $90,000, including $60,000 for the building and $30,000 for the equipment. In intervening weeks, the heirs shaved their price for the building, meanwhile deciding to dispose of the equipment separately rather than requirihg that it be included in the sale.

The theater has been closed approximately two years.

Rusk Meets Gromyko On Vital Issues

Cold War Talks To Be Centered Mainly On Berlin Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opens a series of cold war talks with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today in a delicate and dangerous diplomatic maneuver to find out whether the Soviet Union is interested in a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis.

The two men scheduled a luncheon conference for the first of a series of discussions expected to continue into next week. Rusk invited Gromyko to the meeting in his suite at a midtown hotel. Several policy advisers on each side also will attend.

Berlin was the central issue of the meeting but aides of both men said there was no doubt they would also discuss the crisis in the United Nations arising from Soviet opposition to appointment of a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Gromyko gave no advance sign of any Soviet yielding on either of the two great problems that have brought the world's two mightiest powers into threatening conformation.

Rusk was reported in an adamant mood, determined to warn the Soviet government anew of war dangers in the Berlin dispute and of Western fears for the future of the U.N.

Rusk, who took the initiative in setting up the talks, faced the tricky task of sounding out Soviet views on Berlin negotiations without giving Gromyko any impression that the Western Allies are acting from weakness or fear of war. Such an impression, Western diplomats said, would increase the danger of war over Berlin by encouraging a Soviet miscalculation of Western intentions.

Road Project Plans Aired For UOVDC

Tri-State Highway Aides Speakers At Steubenville Event

Long - range plans for highway projects throughout the Tri-State region were reviewed by officials from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia at a luncheon meeting with the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council Wednesday at the Steubenville Country Club.

William McKenna, head of the State Highway Department Division 11 office in New Philadelphia, discussed the progress on work on southern stages of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway, which will stretch from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

He reiterated that plans for the second stage, stretching from the north city limits of East Liverpool to Substation, will be completed in November or December.

The meeting was conducted by Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the UOVDC highway committee. Pennsylvania spokesman was Robert Klucher, Pittsburgh district engineer. West Virginia's representative was Vincent J. Johnkoski, assistant commissioner of the State Road Commission at Charleston.

Others in the East Liverpool delegation were C. W. Ashbaugh, a UOVDC vice president; Jud English, representing the Columbiana County Motor Club, and E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

About 60 from the six-county UOVDC area attended the two-and-a-half-hour meeting. Each highway department spokesman reviewed current or pending construction in his area. Then the meeting was opened to questions.

Other highway department representatives attending were G. G. Margette of Pittsburgh, district engineer in charge of preconstructive plans; Manley V. Howard of

2 Convicted In Fraud

BEAVER — A Beaver County jury returned a guilty verdict Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in the trial of Robert H. Tearpoak and Mrs. Betty Hoffman of New Brighton who were charged with attempted fraud in selling tickets for a benefit show for the blind which never came off March 5.

Driver Fined For Leaving Crash Scene

A Newell district father of eight was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge he abandoned his auto and fled on foot late Wednesday afternoon after he was involved in a minor traffic accident on E. 4th St. near Walnut St.

Robert D. Phillips, 39, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident filed by Patrolman K. H. Mooney. Officers said he fled after his 1956 sedan sideswiped another 1956 car operated by Frederick D. Hopper, 39, of 1811 Harvey Ave. The crash was timed at 5:25.

Phillips was taken into custody at 1:30 this morning at City Hall with the assistance of Patrolman Clarence Lennens of Chester, officers said. Phillips went to Chester police at 11:30 p. m. to file a report his auto had been stolen, but later changed his mind, police reported.

Hopper said his eastbound car

Council Advised Of 3rd Turndown On $450,000 Project

Chester's application for $110,000 in federal aid for proposed construction of a $450,000 sewage disposal plant has been rejected for the third time, Council was told at a meeting Wednesday night.

A letter was read from the West Virginia Water Resources Commission, stating that the commission did not give Chester a state priority for the grant.

The commission's chairman, Dr. Warden M. Lane, said the action was considered at the meeting Aug. 30. The application was filed April 3.

Lane wrote, "The priorities are granted based upon the point system as established by this agency. We advise that the city either proceed on their own or

Experts Minimize Hazards

Health Service Expands Fallout Detection System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is expanding its fallout detection network and is speeding efforts to determine whether any significant health hazard may be expected from the Soviet Union's nuclear tests in the atmosphere, it was learned today.

At the same time, top fallout experts of the agency told a reporter that even the comparatively high levels of atmospheric radiation reported at least temporarily in some parts of the country could be exceeded many times without necessarily posing a significant health threat.

They said it all boils down to this: Regardless of what the atmospheric readings show, any threat to health depends on how much and what kinds of radioactive material ultimately are ingested by people in milk, water and food—or are inhaled.

So far, they said, they have not made sufficient tests to enable estimates on these latter points—but some new steps are designed to help speed such assessments.

They disclosed these new actions:

1. Two additional fallout detection stations were added during the past few days to add to the 45 stations in 39 states. The new ones are at Bismarck, N.D., and Nashville, Tenn.

Plans are in progress to have a station in all states.

2. Six of the approximately 60 stations maintained by the service's radiological health division to take samples of milk to allow analysis of radioactive content have been alerted to take samples every day, instead of monthly as all stations did previously.

The stations so alerted are at Atlanta; Jackson, Miss., Charlotte, N.C.; Tampa, Fla., New Orleans and St. Louis. And analyses will be done for these stations by the health service's laboratory at Montgomery, Ala.

3. Ten of the stations in the nationwide network of fallout detection stations are being equipped with special apparatus

Jurors Hear Number Slip Complaint

LISBON — The recalled Columbiana County September Grand Jury today heard evidence in a criminal complaint against the Lisbon Salesbook Co. for illegal printing of numbers books.

The panel was slated to hear a total of 13 witnesses in four cases before reporting this afternoon.

Assistant Attorney General John W. Gleason of Columbus, who took part in the Sept. 6 raid at the Maple St. firm, presented the evidence this morning, along with Atty. Jack Nybell of Youngstown, also an assistant attorney general.

Among witnesses called to testify in the case were Walter Knight and Dave Grannan of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London, along with three employes of the plant — John Strudthoff, Catherine McKee and Alfred Carlisle — plus three Wellsville men, Raymond Dickey Jr., Robert Vernon and MacArthur Coleman.

Four other witnesses were to testify in three other cases, according to Prosecutor William Brokaw.

U.S.-Wide Strike Quashed

Local-Level Problems Stymie Full GM Accord

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union—its threat of a nationwide strike against General Motors Corp. quashed—aimed today at a new approach to local problems holding up complete settlement of a new contract with GM.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said Wednesday night the union has "developed a new approach to expedite the settlements of unresolved local issues."

He scheduled a 10 a.m. meeting today of the General Motors Council, a union advisory board, to discuss the new approach. Reuther declined to elaborate on the plan.

Today's meeting followed a hectic night which saw the council vote to accept a GM-UAW national agreement on the money package and national work rules. A few hours later, however, the council voted to ask the UAW International Executive Board for authority to strike GM in support of local contract demands.

The board, governing body of the UAW, met quickly. Less than two hours later, Reuther announced that the board would not authorize a general strike against GM. He said the advisory council's action was an "action by members demonstrating the bitterness of some toward some local practices. This was a culmination of resentment over local problems and the locals' way of protesting."

He said a general strike "cannot in good conscience be justified, therefore it will not be authorized." He added: "All General Motors employes in plants where local issues are resolved are instructed to stay on the job."

Local unions which still had not reached agreement with their managements retained the authority to strike.

GM officials declined comment on the union's actions.

Wednesday night's flurry followed a day in which GM and the UAW apparently reached agreement on national contract demands and made substantial progress on the various local demands.

Kennedy Names Chicago Lawyer To Currency Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an on-again, off-again bit of White House byplay, President Kennedy has named Chicago lawyer James J. Saxon to replace Ray M. Gidney as comptroller of currency.

The appointment, announced Wednesday, will become effective Nov. 15.

Gidney, a Republican, has disagreed strongly with Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the president's brother, over antitrust policy on bank mergers.

The White House announced nomination of Saxon, a Democrat Wednesday afternoon. A spokesman said he understood Gidney was stepping out under a verbal agreement with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

Less than two hours later, the White House withdrew the nomination. The Treasury Department said it was all a mistake, that the nomination had been sent to the White House "as a result of a clerical error in the rush at the close of the session in Congress."

Still later, the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, summoned reporters back to the White House and said Gidney is resigning effective Nov. 15 and Saxon would succeed him in the $20,500 job.

Gidney's term is not scheduled to expire until 1963. Saxon will be given a recess appointment to finish out Gidney's term. The nomination requires Senate approval.

They're Counting On U.S.

Another thing the Communists couldn't have done better if they'd planned it is the gritty American resolve to save the United Nations, on the assumption the Soviet Union wants to wreck it.

The last thing the Soviet Union wants to do is wreck the United Nations. It's the only spot where U.S.S.R. spokesmen must be listened to by governments that would walk out under other circumstances.

It's the one place where the Communist Conspiracy can gloss over its ham-fisted tactics with an appearance of legality.

And it is the place where Communist plotters are hoping to line up votes to create the illusion that the United States has dwindled to minority status in a reddening world.

The United Nations is the best bargain the Soviet Union ever dreamed of having a share in. The only thing wrong with it as far as the Russians are concerned, was its secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjold, who was not intimidated by Russian bully-boy tactics — and Hammarskjold has been removed by fate. The only thing wrong with it before Hammarskjold was Trygve Lie, equally unintimidated by Russian tactics — and he was forced out by the Kremlin, which had been using pressure against Hammarskjold.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics loves the United Nations.

IT IS MADE to order for Communist dialects.

Nothing could be a more exciting challenge to a government that believes the ultimate goal of world domination by the Communist Conspiracy justifies every means.

All the Russian plotters would have to do now is muster a majority for a secretary-general sympathetic to them, and the United States would have no choice but to get out of the United Nations. It would take with it its few real friends, presumably, though not certainly.

It would leave behind enough "paper nations" to constitute a majority for the Soviet Union. An illusion that the Soviet Union had a majority and the United States only a minority then would be strengthened by voting strength given to still-born, half-born and ill-conceived nations as well as to nations of great strength and strong tradition.

All this would be impossible if anything happened to the United Nations. The Russians are counting on this country's gritty determination to save it.

All it takes to fire up plucky Americans in a situation like this is a suspicion that perfidious Russians are trying to do something; that always makes Americans want to do the opposite.

THE MAIN THING to bear in mind is that no one is counting more heavily on the United Nations than the Russians. With a little luck, they can use it to boost Red China into international society. With a lot of luck and arm-twisting, they can use it to vote the United States out of international society, using machinery created by the United States itself.

Many things have changed since the United States dared to hope the United Nations would be an international organization of nations possessing good will and a common interest in the freedom of men.

One thing, however, is still the same. The Soviet Union still doesn't give a whoop about freedom and good will. It is still using the United Nations as it used it from the outset —as a means of undermining freedom and good will.

It is counting on the United States to save the United Nations at any cost because if it didn't exist it would have to be invented; that's what Americans often say.

They are hoping to build a more tolerant, more satisfying world with its help. The Communists have other ideas about the kind of world they hope to build, but they intend to build it with the help of the United Nations, too.

Dag Hammarskjold is dead. Long live the United Nations. The Russians hope so most of all.

Do You Have The Right To Vote?

Another municipal election is almost here, with the important office of mayor among those to be filled Nov. 7.

Your vote will count as much as the next fellow's — that is, if you're eligible to vote. If not, you will be forced to leave it to George!

If you are uncertain of your status as a voter, stop and take stock.

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 7 the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool again is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Don't forfeit one of your most prized possessions through carelessness. If you must register, do so at once.

Following The Buy-Lines

For newspaper people, especially ones who were voting before the era of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the introduction of new automobiles is a satisfying experience.

It brings to a climax the most exciting potentialities and opportunities of newspapering. News stories tell about the unveiling dates for the new models and highlights of their design and operation. Advertisements give the manufacturers' "buy-lines" and recite the details of their newest creations.

But most exciting is the realization by newspaper people who watched the unfolding of their all-American phenomenon of mass transportation that their institutions have been part of this miracle.

Mass transportation in private vehicle was made possible by an unlimited supply of ever-improving automobiles for an ever-growing demand. Not only in the case of automobiles but in all commodities and products that created wealth in our expanding economy, newspapers brought together those who had something to sell and those looking for something to buy.

The automobile ads are here again. There are many ways to sell cars besides newspaper advertising, but printed advertising in newspapers and magazines is still the clincher. This isn't the prejudiced theory of newspaper people, but the composite judgment of people who buy automobiles. They make up their minds, finally, on the basis of what they read.

That's how it was when the automobile era was starting, and that's how it is today, when the era is at its peak. And it's as gratifying and satisfying to see how it works now as it used to be when everything now taken for granted was an innovation.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

TV comedians in war and peace need some controls in critical situations. If TV had existed down through American history we can imagine following dispatches:

Boston, Mass., Dec. 15, 1773, Larry Slick's company of well-known entertainers, arrived here today for a special show (in color) of situation which may provoke Boston Tea Party. "Maybe we should call it the Boston TV Party," said one of the associated comics. He was immediately shot.

Some place, (later), there is indignation among colonist leaders because of what is called the "Paul Revere-Late Late Show Incident."

With relations between Redcoats and Americans extremely tense, "Chet Beezley and His Midnight Funmakers" surrounded Paul Revere's horse in order not to miss contemplated ride.

"We came by land," said Chet, "and not by sea. Followed the one if by land, two if by sea signals in Old North Church."

(He added "just a gag, understand?") Later two of his guest stars actually ascended the stairs of Old North Church, frightening pigeons from their perch with the unpardonable quip "This is not for the birds."

Bunker Hill, June 10, 1775: Indicating that a battle was near, Dick Smith and his "Yodel Along With Smitty" Troupe, set up things for extensive coverage of current scenes here. Joshua Jones, Minuteman, selected for a street corner interview, said, "It will be close. I hear our side won't shoot until we see the whites of their eyes."

San Juan Hill, July 1898; Teddy Roosevelt was half way up San Juan hill today when he turned to drive off TV producers, sponsors and actors and press agents mobilizing to make it a two-hour "spectacular."

Several Rough Riders have been disciplined for not booting them away in the first place.

Barney Botts, chief TV performer said, "I can't understand all the indignation. Teddy has no entertainment business experience. We were simply trying to guarantee a good show.

HOW CAN ANYTHING come of talks between Secretary Rusk and Gromyko? Gromyko is the Abominable NO Man. You can't get him to go along with you on a statement "It looks like rain."

Secretary Ribicoff is all out for better control of prescription drugs and a cut in high prices. "You can shop around for shoes, groceries or autos but not for prescription drugs," he says. Even an estimate on price of some wonder-pills is regarded as an "extra."

Odd Facts

About three-fifths of all the 16 million people over 65 in the U.S. have an income of less than $1,000 per year. Only one-fifth live on more than $2,000 annually, and about one in 10 has no personal income at all. This financial plight of our senior citizens, according to one authority, may be due in part to the pact that more than three-fourths of retired persons think of themselves as "too old to work at a steady job." Fewer than one in five is employed even part-time.

Officially speaking, the United States consists of 46 states and four commonwealths. The Commonwealths are Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky. The two terms have about the same meaning, but "commonwealth" originally denoted more of "self-government" than "state."

Civil War Grips Gangland

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

Dead men may tell no tales—but they do leave an awful bloody trail. Gruesomely it stretches all the way from New York through Ohio and into this city, from which the bullet-strewn road leads right into Las Vegas. There have been some 40 executions by the big time crime syndicates—that we know of — in the last few months. And those who should know say there are shootings and other refined but lethal treatment of hoods of which the public never will be told.

Victor Riesel

The unimpeachables, who never are wrong in these matters, believe the blood letting is the result of a civil war between the elders of the old combinations and the "youngsters" of Detroit.

I would not report this if I did not take the word of these informants as absolute. They say that a new Detroit clan is demanding a bigger cut in the take in gambling, narcotics, "legitimate business, industrial rackets, and some unions."

NOTHING AROUSES the beady-eyed beast in the soft-voiced veterans of the old manicured mobs so swiftly as a nip in their territories. So the old-timers have gone in for some "educational reprisals" to teach the invaders a lesson. Result—scores of killings right across the land.

There may or may not be a single national crime syndicate but when the old-timers are threatened they get up their high court and the executions start. Though the government believes it couldn't happen to more deserving chaps, law and order is law and order.

Some of the FBI's best agents now are working steadily on this civil war in Ohio, Chicago, Detroit and right on down to Kansas City. There, the Department of Justice has one of its biggest undercover operations going.

That's one end of this sweet nutcracker maneuver. At the other end, in Washington, C. D. itself, the Justice Department has assigned some 60 lawyers to do little but gather information—all sorts of information about the country's top hoods. But without waiting for any crime to be committed.

The lawyers, part of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section, pick up anything they can, ranging from birth certificates in other parts of the world to tax returns.

NOR DO THESE lawyers limit themselves to any band of organized criminals. They do have a list of the 40 men they believe control most of America's crime.

This list could be stretched to 50, or perhaps 100. But when you get beyond the original 40 you begin running into the subsiterns and maybe just an ambitious hood whose flashing fists and guns and bankroll make him stand out for a moment.

The 50 investigating lawyers and their topside chief, Bob Kennedy, believe that the government can't lose on this investment. Sooner or later something will break. Then they simply go to their cross-indexed files gathered from all government agencies and prosecute.

They don't expect that this prosecution necessarily will be criminal, such as for violating of some statute.

The prosecutions could come, and probably will come, on charges of commitment of a "commercial crime" or for attempts to move into the labor field.

It is not generally realized how deeply the mob has imbedded itself in the nation's economic business life. Nor is it realized that violations of some of the federal commercial regulatory statutes could bring sentences of 10 years and fines of tens of thousands of dollars.

IF YOU WANT a swift look at the mob's business operations, covered by a thousand federal commercial regulations, just read what Aaron M. Kohn, managing director of the New Orleans Metropolitan Crime Commission told Sen. McClellan's committee recently. It has been overlooked by virtually the entire country:

Referring to the activities of Louisiana mobster Carlos Marcello, Kohn said that the profits of Marcello's racing wire service financed legal and illegal businesses, including handbooks, gambling houses, coin-operated device companies, bars, restaurants, night clubs, motels, transportation facilities, real estate developments, food processing plants and even deep-sea shrimping fleets.

There are many top criminal chiefs who make similar "legitimate" money. They had better be running mighty clean businesses. Prison is prison, whether someone goes up for cleaning up on narcotics or failing to clean up a food plant.

The heat's on from all sides and from the inside. Looks like it might be a mighty hot year for the men who have organized crime so profitably for so long.

Best quip in spoofing segregation is the Negro comedian who tells proprietors of restaurants with signs saying "No Negroes Served Here" that he never eats Negroes anyway.

Many a woman could learn a valuable lesson from the auto industry's practice of surrounding new models with mystery, to make people as curious about seeing them as the manufacturers are anxious about showing them.

Peacemakers hoe a hard row. First, they try to do the impossible, then when they can't do it they are accused of meddling in places where they had no right to be; i.e., in the affairs of the warmakers.

The most beautiful blooms in the flower garden at our house are now in evidence — chrysanthemums, spectacular hybrid marigolds and roses. But at this time of the year no one seems to be in a mood to pay attention to flowers, which is one more reason for calling these "the melancholy days."

Before busting out crying about political predictions that tax-supported colleges will have to charge more tuition unless stingy taxpayers loosen up, remember that tuition in private schools now runs up to more than $1,500 a year, which is half the actual cost. Stingy taxpayers already are doing pretty well by the sons and daughters of parents hitching a free ride in tax-supported universities.

I never have figured out how a human being keeps his fingernails cut without using nail clippers, though I have watched my lifelong roommate "do" her nails with scissors. I still don't see how it's possible to cut the nails on the right hand with a pair of scissors in the left hand.

I yield to no one in admiration for the baseball prowess of the great Babe Ruth, but it is getting to be too much of too much to have him held up as a minor saint, which he clearly was not during his high-stepping days as a free spender with a tremendous appetite for all purchasable goodies.

I am impressed by the survival methods of spiders that encase themselves in spider-webbing and latch on to a secure place under the butt end of shingles on our house each fall — on the east side, away from the winter wind.

It is amusing if you, too, are forgetful about names to ask people to give you quickly the name of the vice president who served with Harry S. Truman. There are people who can't even remember who ran for vice president with Richard M. Nixon only a year ago — and a few bad cases who must stop to think before telling who the vice president of the United States is today.

There are many pleasant things to see each morning in RFD, one I always like is a mother cat leading a litter of small kittens into a field to learn to hunt.

Through The Years

W. L. Fogo of Wellsville, who won the Republican mayoralty nomination in a three-cornered race at the August primaries, reported expenditures of $97.

A campaign was launched to reduce the rat menace here.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — William W. Watkin, safety-service director, was named chairman of the East Liverpool district draft board's re-employment committee.

DeMar Miller of Indiana Ave., played piano selections and accompanied group singing at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club.

Advice To GOP

'Opposition' Organizations Seen Party Need

The Republican party has fallen down badly as the party of opposition in the last several months.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy publicity apparatus is functioning effectively with all the benefits that an incumbent in the White House naturally can derive in taking advantage of his position as the chief news maker of the day.

David Lawrence

The fault of the Republican side, to be sure, is not with any individual but with the system, which also has plagued the Democrats at times when they were the party out of power.

The two men, for instance, who today seem to have the largest number of supporters for the Republican nomination in 1964 are not even in Washington these days except for occasional visits.

Right now, former Vice President Nixon is considering whether he will run for governor of California. To take that office would be a mistake if he really wants the Republican presidential nomination in 1964 for he cannot possibly keep in close contact with national affairs while preoccupied with local affairs at the state capital in Sacramento.

The argument made vehemently in his favor throughout the 1960 campaign was that he had played an intimate part in the activities of the executive as well as legislative branch of the national government for eight years.

This talking point about experience will diminish in value for him to a large extent by 1964, when Mr. Kennedy's actual experience with world problems from 1961 to 1964 will become his big asset against either Gov. Rockefeller or Mr. Nixon if the latter is nominated and elected governor of California.

THE SITUATION would seem to call for an unusual kind of remedy. It requires the organization of a "loyal opposition" patterned somewhat on the British system.

If a group of Republican voters who are devoted supporters of Mr. Nixon wish to see him elected president in 1964, they could contribute relatively small sums each year to finance a "Citizens for Nixon" organization which would pay Mr. Nixon's living expenses and office needs in Washington.

A working staff could be set up of men experienced in the various departments of government. In fact, by the creation of an "alternate" department of state and an equivalent unit for each of the other executive departments, the country could be kept advised from week to week as to what is really going on in their government.

The opposition viewpoint, expressed through speeches in Congress, is presented intermittently of course, but rarely are there any alternate programs offered and widely distributed in a comprehensive form to the voters.

Mr. Nixon belongs in Washington at the head of such an organization. Another one just like it could be established by the friends and supporters of Gov. Rockefeller, who, instead of running for re-election in New York in 1962, could devote himself to working every day in Washington as part of a "loyal opposition."

COOPERATION BETWEEN two or more such organizations of rival candidates could be carried on to a certain extent — as, for example, on the information-gathering side. All this would operate as a check on radicalism in Washington and would certainly be of assistance to members of Congress.

Sen. Goldwater, who is gaining considerable support for the Republican presidential nomination, is making a number of effective speeches in opposition to administration policies, but, without a big organization of full-time associates, he cannot possibly give the necessary time to the day-by-day study of executive problems and still keep up his work as a senator.

Something sooner or later will have to be done to build opposition strength in America's political parties along the lines of what is done so successfully in Britain.

Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader in the Senate, said last week that he expects to have more frequent visits with Gov. Rockefeller, just as he has had recently with former Vice President Nixon.

While these meetings are helpful to congressional leaders, they are not a substitute for study every day in the currently neglected field of executive action.

AN "ALTERNATE CABINET" or group of staff executives under the supervision of former Vice President Nixon and another under Gov. Rockefeller — if he gave up his work in Albany and came to Washington to perform a full-time task as a member of the "loyal opposition" — would provide a lot of information valuable to the electorate.

Speeches made throughout the country by leading candidates for the Republican nomination would then be based on a great deal of firsthand information and would certainly get more attention than the occasional commentaries heard on the stump today.

Safer Young Drivers

By Earl Ubell

How much you pay on your next automobile liability insurance premium may depend on whether you feel like talking back to your father, prefer "Dick Tracy" to "Peanuts" as a comic strip or have some particular ambition in life. It's your psychological outlook that counts; not your speed with the brake.

In Iowa, it's already happened. There, potential hot-rodders get a personality test from one insurance company and the outcome determines their premiums. And it works.

The test was able to pick out groups of men under 25 years of age who end up with the most accidents.

Dr. Charles F. Haner, who developed the test at Grinnell College gives a thumbnail sketch of the safe driver.

Briefly, the safe boy is docile, non-aggressive, compliant, intellectual and conservative. That means when you ask him: "Would you prefer to be a YMCA leader, a scoutmaster or a plumber?" he answers: YMCA leader or scout master." It shows a concern for others that manifests itself in road courtesy.

Or he answers "Yes" to: Do you want your life to be well ordered and planned so that it is highly predictable?"

In comic strips his tastes run to "Peanuts" and "Pogo" rather than to "Dick Tracy" or "Steve Canyon." The latter are much too rush-around and adventuresome for the safe driver.

The test divided the young men into three groups. They had been given a promise of lowered premium possibility if they took the test. Otherwise they had to pay the usual high premium for the under 25 category.

In general, Group III which the test predicted as having the highest accident rate also had the greatest number of claims in which they were at fault. The rate was twice as high as that of Group I, the least-risk men.

The test was even better in picking out the boys with multiple claims. There Group III had four times as many claims as Group I. Even the cash settlement was higher for Group III.

As for accidents in which the driver was not at fault, those also were higher in the Group III types. That's not surprising Dr. Haner said.

"The youth who drives at a high rate of speed behind another car on a graveled road is very apt to get a windshield chipped or a headlight broken," he said.

"The one who insists on his legal right of way and will not yield to a car making an illegal entry or the boy who ignores intersections because he has right of way, is very apt to be involved in an accident; whereas the more cautious boy would not be in the same situation."

The Basques

About a million Basques live in villages scattered through the rocky mountain borderland of southwest France and north-central Spain.

Long isolated, the Basques have preserved a strange language and distinct physical type. Two characteristics — a sharply tapering skull and unusual blood types — suggest they come from very ancient stock.

Though the origin of the Basques is unknown, some ethnologists believe they may be direct survivors of a Stone Age people. Others link them to the extinct Etruscans. Another theory, which puts the Basques in a more recent time, holds that they stem from early Iberians who fled into the mountains to escape Roman conquest.

Wellsville Terminal Resumes Operations

Normal operations were resumed at the Mississippi Lime Co. terminal on the Ohio River at 16th St., Wellsville, Wednesday after the plant had been shut down Tuesday by Mayor William J. Shoub because of complaints of heavy dust throughout the neighborhood.

Officials of the firm conferred Tuesday afternoon with the mayor and then again Tuesday night with City Council, promising to correct the situation. They were informed the terminal could operate as long as the dust nuisance remains abated.

The officials also outlined plans for erection of a new facility at the site which they said will eliminate any possibility of lime dust.

South Side Citizens To Pay Grid Lighting

The South Side Citizens' Association met Wednesday night at South Side High School near Hookstown and voted to pay for the lighting, by a generator, for one football game.

The group also voted to give $100 to the band toward the purchase of kettle drums. Discussion was held on setting up a membership drive.

Harry Lutton and Mrs. Harry Nelson, vice president who presided, sang the school's new Alma Mater whose words were written recently by Howard Howarth, band director.

Officers will be elected Oct. 18.

Oldsmobile Being Shown Locally

Completely different front and rear styling, new fender lines and new crisp roof designs — that describes the 1962 line of Oldsmobiles, Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and a vice president of General Motors says.

With the introduction of two new convertibles, Oldsmobile is expanding its F-85 line to a total of nine models, Wolfram pointed out.

The new Cutlass Convertible, like its companion model, the Cutlass Coupe, will be equipped with all - Morocceen interiors, front bucket seats and the Cutlass 185 ultra-high compression, aluminum V-8 engine.

"This engine," Wolfram said, "with its 215-cubic-inch displacement, a four-barrell carburetor and a 10.25-to-1 compression ratio, gives spectacular performance with surprisingly good mileage on premium grade gasolines."

The standard engine for all other F-85's is the 8-cylinder, 155-horsepower, aluminum Rockette engine. It also has a displacement of 215 cubic inches, but is equipped with a two-barrel carburetor and 8.75-to-1 compression ratio for operating with regular grade fuels.

"For 1962," Wolfram continued, "we have made further styling refinements and mechanical improvements. In addition, Oldsmobile's increased emphasis on quality and reliability designed for even greater customer satisfaction, places the F-85 in a class by itself in the low-price field."

Among the body design improvements noted by Oldsmobile's general manager is almost two inches of additional leg room in the rear compartment of the four-door sedans for increased passenger comfort.

Palestines' New Industry To Ship

EAST PALESTINE — First shipment from the new Insul Co. plant, where initial production of chemical products for steel firms began Friday, is slated to be made by the end of the week, officials said today.

The firm currently employs 10, but may have as many as 30 working later, according to Michael D. LaBate of Ellwood City, and his son, Michael E. LaBate, who operate the concern.

Insul will continue to operate plants at Wampum, Pa., and at Negley for a while at least, although a consolidation may be undertaken in the future, the officials said.

100 Attend Palestine School Group Event

EAST PALESTINE — About 100 attended a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night at the high school at which M. H. Martin of Massillon spoke on audio-visual aids.

Head of the M. H. Martin Co., a audio-visual aid firm, he demonstrated various types of equipment and spoke on their use. He said there is especially a need for aids in teaching foreign languages.

Absence Excused

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Mothers of Twins Club convention had scheduled a panel discussion by parents of twins, but the meeting had to be cancelled. The leader of the discussion did not arrive in town because his wife was delivering their third set of twins.

'Crank' Letters From Ex-County Man Are Halted

Postal authorities have halted distribution of a large number of form letters from a former Columbiana County man mailed to county residents, criticizing certain officials involved in a previous divorce preceeding at Lisbon.

Residents in the Salem and Lisbon areas and elsewhere have been receiving the letters in the past several days from the man now in Nevada.

Termed a "letter of truth," the accounts relate his stand in the controversy with his wife, the divorce proceedings and his criticism of court officials and doctors in the case.

One authority said as many as 3,000 such letters may have been received. However, at Lisbon the distribution of the letters has been halted, and postal inspectors asked to investigate.

Some 600 of the letters are being held at Salem for study of inspectors, and a number are also being detained at Lisbon.

Lawrenceville Gets First Street Light

Lawrenceville's first street light, obtained through private financing, was turned on Wednesday night.

The light was installed at the intersection of the Lawrenceville Rd. and Stevenson Ave. by the Monongahela Power Co. at a cost of $3 a month, paid by three families in the area at $1 each.

The utility has installed some 28 such lights in Hancock County under its public outdoor lighting service, Walter Jordan, Chester manager, said.

33 Of Federal Agencies Allow Phone Monitoring

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Big brother may not be watching you, yet, but his secretary probably is listening in on your telephone calls to government agencies."

That's the conclusion of the House Government Information subcommittee after a survey of telephone monitoring practices of 37 major government agencies.

The report, issued today, said 33 of the 37 federal agencies permit some kind of telephone monitoring—if you include having a secretary make notes of dates, numbers, future engagements and the like.

It added that 21 agencies have no regulations on telephone monitoring, and 17 do not always require that the other party be warned that what he is saying is being taken down.

The report said most agencies "rationalize it as an aid to efficiency. When monitoring is done secretly and becomes eavesdropping, however, the bureaucracy is sacrificing principle on the altar of efficiency."

The report said there were indications of "a dangerous drift toward a huge bureaucracy peering over the shoulder of the citizen."

The survey was conducted by the stafff of the subcommittee headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif. The subcommittee was fought for five years to make information on government business more accessible to the public.

The report said it found 363 transmitter cutoff switches and 240 listening-in circuits on telephones going through a switchboard operated by the General Services Administration. It said the great majority of these was on phone lines of the Welfare Department.

A transmitter cutoff switch is a button that shuts off the transmitter part of a telephone, so someone can hear but cannot be heard. A listening-in circuit is another method of hearing without being heard.

The telephone company charges extra for both devices, and the report estimated that "many thousand of dollars a year are spent on the listening-in devices."

East End Girl Scout Group Stresses Need Of Leaders

A need for new leaders was stressed at the meeting of the East End Girl Scout Neighborhood Association Wednesday night at East Junior High School.

It was announced experience is not necessary as there will be a training session for new leaders, along with help from the East End service team.

Mrs. Raymond Galloway, chairman, presided. Mrs. Donna Perkins and Mrs. Jean Kidder were named new leaders of the Brownie Troop which meets at the Klondyke School.

Following discussion, the group voted not to change the regular meeting night, which is the third Wednesday.

Mrs. Josephine Spencer and Mrs. Galloway will be chairmen for the annual Juliette Low observance in October.

Mrs. Perkins was named chairman for the calendar sale to begin Oct. 9.

A display of basketry, copper tooling and mosaic tile, made at the "Arts and Crafts" workshop at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville, was inspected. The sessions were extended for another Wednesday as many of the projects were not completed.

None Hurt As Fire, Explosions Hit Plant

ST. MARYS, W. Va. (AP) — Fire and two explosions rocked the Quaker State Oil Refining Co. plant early today. No one was reported injured.

Two men died last Jan. 14 in a similar fire and blast at the plant's filter house across a small stream from the latest scene.

Flames of undetermined origin broke out in one of six "run-off" tanks containing by-products. The other five tanks were believed in danger.

was halted on E. 4th St. at Walnut St., where there is a four-way stop, when Phillips drove west across the intersection and sideswiped the left side of the Klondyke man's auto. The left fender, door and quarter panel of Hopper's car were damaged, officers said.

When police arrived to investigate, Phillips' car was sitting driverless on the street. They ordered it towed to a service station.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff castigated Phillips severely for fleeing the accident.

He termed it "a cowardly act" and said Phillips' "conduct was most reprehensible."

"Although you were involved in an accident, you took off without stopping to see if anyone was injured," he said. "You compounded your misbehavior when you conceived the idea of reporting your car stolen. You are fortunate the charge was not filed under the state code because that would have given me the right to send you to jail."

Police said their records show Phillips was arrested here in 1959 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Questioned by the judge, Phillips said he was fined and jailed in the 1959 case.

Episcopal Group Tours Detroit's Massive Plants

DETROIT (AP)— After putting new steam into a move for Christian reunion, the legislative machinery of the Episcopal Church today ground to a halt—for a look at some other kinds of machinery.

Nearly 1,000 representatives of the church from across the country—bishops, pastors, theologians and lay delegates—headed into the whirring labrynth of Detroit's industrial empire.

Their purpose: To hunt clues on how the church can break out of its parochial walls into the mass — organized, mechanized world that has engulfed much of modern American life.

The tour came after the House of Bishops Wednesday swept through a dramatic measure aimed at uniting a wide range of American churches, including at least four other denominations.

The bride wore a full - length gown of white silk organza designed with a chapel train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves and a V - piped waistline. Her queen's crown held a fingertip veil of silk illusion.

She wore net mitts and carried a white satin-covered Bible, topped with an arrangement of gardenias and lace and satin streamers. She observed the traditions and carried a sixpence in her shoe.

Miss J. Rhea Nile, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a silk organza dress in emerald green, featuring a straight neckline, three - quarter-length sleeves and full skirt. Matching mitts, Dior bows and Shantung slippers completed her costume.

Miss Grace Culp, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Carol Keener of Salem and Miss Karen Israel of Damascus were bridesmaids. They appeared in ensembles identical to that of the maid of honor, except in gold organza.

Counseling Work Pushed

Plans for a fall membership drive were discussed and committees set up.

Judge Louis Tobin, advisory; Miss Elizabeth Coleman, finance and budget; Cornell Monda, the center's psychologist, annual dinner meeting; Ernest John, fund-raising; Mrs. Lilyan Alpern, speakers' bureau; Arthur Thomas, publicity.

Already active are the membership committee headed by Earl Bake and the ways and means committee headed by Mrs. J. Donald Thompson.

Bake announced that Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools and an executive with the center, and Russell Hall, insurance executive, will assist him in the membership drive scheduled to get under way in November.

Mrs. Smith called on the various committee chairmen to enlarge their groups by calling on individuals not connected with the center to participate. She pointed out such procedure would enlarge the scope of the center's activities and make more people conscious of the work that is being done.

Red Rocket Seen Able To Orbit 12-Ton Satellite

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The Soviet Union reportedly has a rocket capable of orbiting a 12-ton satellite and already is building a space platform which Premier Khrushchev has called the "ultimate atomic warfare weapon."

This report, unconfirmed by other sources, came from Kilsoo Haan, a former Korean underground worker during World War II who now is a naturalized American citizen.

Haan, who says his information comes from inside Communist territory, submitted to President Kennedy Sept. 9 information which said Khrushchev had advised Red Chinese leader Mao Tze-Tung of the powerful new rocket and that the space platform was being built.

Area's Plants Show Gain In Jobs, Wages

The 12 major East Liverpool plants added 225 to their work forces in August and paid out $113,459 more in wages than in July, it was shown today in the monthly summary of conditions issued by the Chamber of Commerce.

The employment-payroll picture was the brightest spot in the summary. Three other indices showed gains last month, compared with July, and eight were down.

The same indices for the first eight months of 1961, compared with the same interval of 1960, showed gains in two lines and declines in 11.

Plant payrolls totaled $1,174,704 last month, up 10.7 per cent from the $1,061,245 issued in wages in July. The payrolls total $9,062,485 for the first eight months of the year, down 12.9 per cent from the $10,404,493 shown at the same time in 1960.

Employment at the same plants totaled 3,866 in August, up 6.2 per cent from July's 3,641. Employment averaged 3,813 monthly in the first eight months of 1961, down 7.5 per cent from the monthly average of 4,124 shown at the same time in 1960.

The city reported 111 cases in August, a drop of 3.5 per cent from the 115 listed in July. The case load averaged 120 monthly in the first eight months of 1961, up 60 per cent from the 75-case average shown at the same time last year.

Parking meter receipts hit $4,954 in August, up 2.4 per cent from July's $4,839. They total $40,561 for the first eight months of the year, a gain of 3.4 per cent from the $39,243 shown at the same time in 1960.

River traffic locked through district dams represented 1,583,400 tons in August, up 19.5 per cent from the 1,325,500 tons shown in July. The tonnage totals 10,169,100 for the first eight months of 1961, off 1.1 per cent from the 10,281,600 tons shown at the same time in 1960.

The dams handled 557 tows in August, a drop of 1.1 per cent from the 563 listed in July. They have locked through a total of 3,499 so far in 1961, a drop of 10.6 per cent from the 3,914 shown at the same time in 1960.

Inbound railroad carloadings hit 241 in August, off 1.2 per cent from July's 244. They total 1,543 for the first eight months of the year, down 25.3 per cent from the 2,066 shown at the same time in 1960.

Outbound carloadings totaled 243 in both July and August. They stand at 1,774 for the first eight months of 1961, down 23 per cent from the 2,303 shown at the same time in 1960.

New car sales in Columbiana County hit 228 in August, off 13 per cent from the 262 listed in July. They stand at 1,893 for the first eight months of the year, down 32.1 per cent from the 2,789 shown at the same time in 1960.

Used car sales totaled 720 in August, down 10 per cent from July's 800. They total 5,536 for the first eight months of the year, down 25.9 per cent from the 7,473 recorded in the same interval last year.

Sales tax receipts totaled $32,030 in August, down 14.2 per cent from July's $37,321. They total $309,382 for the first eight months of the year, down 14 per cent from the $359,872 shown at the same time in 1960.

Postal receipts in August hit $16,601, off 13.6 per cent from the $19,223 listed for July. They total $156,497 for the first eight months of the year, up eight-tenths of one per cent from the $155,204 shown at the same time in 1960.

August bank debits hit $23,309,693, down 3.3 per cent from July's $24,094,389. The debits averaged $21,946,908 monthly in the first eight months of 1961, off 4.4 per cent from the $22,958,329 average shown at the same time in 1960.

Bank clearings in August totaled $3,130,300, down 10.9 per cent from the $3,514,308 listed in July. They total $25,050,470 for the first eight months of 1961, down 6.6 per cent from the $26,821,982 shown at the same time in 1960.

Other evacuees, Civil Defense reported, were at least 20 families from a lowlying area in Falmouth, also on Cape Cod.

The slowdown of Esther, the Weather Bureau said, meant it would not reach southern Cape Cod until afternoon.

At Fairhaven, Mass., near New Bedford, about 1,000 families, totaling 4,000 persons, were evacuated to higher-ground shelters.

New York Escapes Hurricane's Fury

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Esther slammed past the eastern end of Long Island this morning, lashing out with winds above 100 miles an hour. But the effect on the island and in the populous metropolitan area appeared to have been mild.

The most serious consequences listed in first reports were power failures affecting several thousand homes, flooding of highways, broken windows, downed signboards and trees, and a few minor injuries to individuals.

Road Project Plans Aired

Moundsville, district engineer for the State Road Commission, and Robert Jenkins, in charge of programming and planning for Ohio Division 11.

McKenna gave a review of the continuing project in which a new Route 7 eventually will be built from Clarington north to East Liverpool. He mentioned work in Bellaire, Martins Ferry, Brilliant, Mingo Junction, Steubenville, Toronto, Empire and Stratton.

The Wellsville Route 7 relocation still is pending, McKenna explained, because Council has not acted on the State Highway Department's plans.

Johnkoski referred in general terms to a study which he said is under way in an effort to clear up Chester traffic congestion. However, he did not refer specifically to the Route 30 Hill problem or the Chester congestion resulting from heavy traffic to Waterford Park Race Track.

He said the State Road Commission is making a study and hopes to make recommendations, but he did not indicate what solution it will propose.

Johnkoski said a consulting engineer now is preparing plans for relocation of West Virginia Route 2 starting two miles south of Follansbee in Brooke County and extending to a point south of New Cumberland. He did not define the exact limits of the project.

He also said his department expects to start work soon on construction of a two-mile section of Route 22 from the Pennsylvania state line to a point near the Weirton Steel Co. offices overlooking Weirton.

Klucher said Pennsylvania authorities are investigating the need to construct a four-lane highway from the Penn - Lincoln Parkway west to a point near Raccoon Creek State Park. He also referred to the proposed bridge across the Ohio River between Midland and Shippingport and said a promise of financial support from Beaver County commissioners is the only factor that is holding up a start on the job.

There was a lengthy discussion on the so-called Route 22 bypass in the Steubenville area, affecting all three states. The consensus of opinion of the officials from the three states was that the project probably will not be finished for three to five years, although certain sections may be completed before that time.

West Virginia officials said their portion of the three - state link may be completed in three years. The big delaying factor is inability to reach a decision on site of a new bridge that will carry the highway across the river at Steubenville, they agreed.

McKenna said an engineering report has been completed on relocation of Route 22 between Cambridge and Steubenville. Eleven miles of the stretch is under construction — bypassing Cadiz and Hopedale — and completion is scheduled by the end of October, he said.

The next phase will take the new road from Hopedale east and around Steubenville, he said. Tentative plans call for the highway to pass about a mile north of Steubenville, but the plans still are being reviewed, he said.

Concrete Poured On Span Of Freeway

The first concrete was poured Wednesday for the roadway of the elevated structure that will carry the new West End-California Hollow Freeway over the four-lane section of W. 8th St.

Baker & Hickey, Inc., of Columbus, whose contract includes construction of the structures, finished work on the first pour about 8:30 last night. In about a week, forms will be in place and other preparations will be complete for the second of three pours.

Chapin & Chapin, Inc., of Norwalk, the other prime contractor for the $6 million job, expects it will pour its first concrete for the highway proper within the next two weeks. Ed Smalley, the firm's paving superintendent, arrived in East Liverpool Wednesday from Portsmouth after completing work on a new section of Route 52.

Jurors Excused As Man Changes Plea On Charges

A scheduled jury trial for a man accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol was called off today in Municipal Court after the defendant switched his plea to "no contest" and asked to be heard by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

The defendant is Paul Victor Dawson, 1948 Dresden Ave. Ext., who was cited by the State Highway Patrol after his auto struck a big earth hauler Aug. 9 just north of the city limits at a freeway construction crossing. Dawson's wife was injured and his car was demolished. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment.

Judge Chertoff heard prosecution testimony today from Patrolman N. K. Myers, who filed the charge. Then he continued the case until Friday for imposition of sentence after hearing a number of character witnesses scheduled to take the stand for the defense.

The 30 prospective jurors were notified Wednesday by Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor that they were excused from the case. Atty. George A. Aronson is defense counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark represents the prosecution.

Lisbon Firm Listed For 'Identical Bids'

LISBON The H. K. Porter Co.'s electrical insulator plant here was listed among Ohio firms seeking business with the federal government which congressional investigators say submitted identical bids.

Three Ohio firms were listed. The report said the Thomas Works of Porter's Delta Star Division here and the Ohio Brass Co. at Mansfield submitted identical bids in several instances on large lots of suspension insulators.

"Based on past experience, it is possible that some funds may be available later, and you are advised to proceed with planning so as to be in a position to accept the grant and commence construction," he concluded.

Dominick Cerrone of A. R. Todd Associates of Wheeling, engineers who have done the preliminary survey work for the plant, told Council he did not know why the request for the aid was turned down. "There was not another thing to be done except for resubmitting the previous application for the grant," he said.

Council agreed to request the Sanitary Board to resubmit the application for aid again in 1962.

The city had filed for the grant four times, but the first request was not considered because the forms were not complete.

Mayor Ray Collins said he will call a meeting of the Sanitary Board soon to meet with Todd or Cerrone concerning plans for the plant.

Cerrone asked Council if members would care to change the filtering plans for the disposal plant. He said if an indoor sludge filter would be used instead of open sludge beds, plant odors would be eliminated.

John Auerbach of Dunn St. asked Council why a 120-foot section of Dunn St. between Carolina Ave. to Rose Alley was not sealed during recent street improvement.

Councilman Harry Davis said all the street work that could be done with the funds available was done, and improvement of Dunn St. will have to be undertaken later.

Council took no action on a proposal by Donald Chaney of Carolina Ave. to name a Chester committee to meet with groups from Weirton and New Cumberland and seek legislation on returning to municipalities some of the state gasoline tax.

The other communities plan to urge representatives in the legislature to enact a law which would allot 1 cent of the 7-cent state gas tax to the communities. Chaney estimated Chester would net $15,000 annually.

Mayor Collins reported on a meeting with Monongahela Power Co. officials concerning recent complaints that street light repairs and bulb replacements were not being done as fast as possible.

Mayor Collins reported Walter Jordan, utility manager, said the street lights are checked each week and lights are replaced when residents report faulty bulbs.

2 Georgetown Area Men Hurt In Wreck

Two Georgetown R. D. 1 men were hurt when their car ran off Route 30 and down a 20-foot embankment Wednesday at 10:15 p. m. about a mile east of Hillendale.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Herbert Weese, the driver, received a broken right leg and a laceration over his right eye, and Elmer Garn, a passenger, received lacerations over his right eye and of the right ear.

Both were taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital at McKees Rocks. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

ROGER MARIS
Nobody Ever Tried Harder.

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Roger Maris' relentless assault on Babe Ruth's hallowed home run record ended in defeat Wednesday night, but in no way could it be interpreted as a failure.

Trailing by two home runs with just one more game remaining, playing in a park which had throttled him in all 26 previous efforts, Maris not only walloped his 59th home run of the season but came breathlessly close to smashing two more.

Had the two he barely missed been fair instead of feet foul, the crew-cut blond from Raytown, Mo., would have achieved the feat of the century.

Only two others had seriously threatened that mark — Jimmy Foxx with 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg with 58 in 1938.

The crowd of 21,032, naturally devoted to Ruth, a native Baltimorean, gave Maris, 27, a standing ovation after he had sent a dribbler down the first base line on a checked swing in his last try.

"I tried," he said later. "I didn't quite make it, but I tried."

And how Maris tried.

In the third inning, with Pappas still on the mound, he smashed a 2-1 pitch, a sort of high liner, into the right field bleachers, about 390 feet from the plate. The homer electrified the audience, which realized he still had at least two more cracks at homer No. 60.

Dick Hall, another right-hander, was on the mound when Maris came to bat in the fourth. With an 0-2 count, Roger whacked a liner which landed in the stands, about eight feet foul and some 15 feet short of the right field bleachers. Many in the crowd, on his side by that time, groaned.

Again in the seventh, Maris flirted with fame when he hit a long drive deep into the right field bleachers. This one was about 20 to 25 feet foul.

Now it was the ninth. There were two out. Hoyt Wilhelm was on the mound.

He never got that "one good swing."

The ball struck the bat and dribbled down the first base line. Wilhelm fielded the ball himself and tagged the dejected Maris just off first base.

"I'm glad it's over," Maris said later. "It's a great relief. But I'm disappointed it had to end this way. If I wasn't going to make it, at least I wanted to go down swinging.

Most Serious HR Threat To Babe Ends At 59

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris strode to the plate in the top of the ninth, dug in and fouled the first pitch by knuckleball specialist Hoyt Wilhelm back of the plate. Wilhelm wound up again, let go and Maris tried to check his swing. He couldn't.

On that note ended the most serious threat to Babe Ruth's 60-homer record of 1927 as Maris, who had hit No. 59 in the third inning, failed in his final chance to tie baseball's most prized record under the 154-decision edict of Commissioner Ford Frick.

All eyes were on Maris while he took his final shots at the Babe's mark in Baltimore, where the Yankees clinched their 26th American League pennant by whipping the Orioles 4-2 Wednesday night.

"I wanted to get three good swings whether I hit it or not," said Maris in the dressing room while expressing regret over his last time at bat. "The way it turned out, I didn't get one. I would have liked to have taken a full swing."

Thus Maris joins a long list of homer hammerers who have come within range of Ruth's record, but failed. Roger, however, tied Ruth's mark of 59 in 1921. He became only the second man in major league baseball history to hit that many and still has eight games under the expanded schedule in which to match or surpass Ruth's total.

The honor of clinching the Yanks 11th pennant in the last 13 years went to Ralph Terry (15-3) who got the job done for the second year in a row with a four-hitter that made Ralph Houk the first rookie manager in 15 years to win a major league flag.

The last American League first year pilot to do it was Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers in 1934.

The Yankees wrapped it up with a three-run rally in the third started by Maris' homer off Milt Pappas (12-9). Yogi Berra then followed with a homer and a single by Johnny Blanchard and Elston Howard's double finished off the outburst for a 4-0 lead.

The Detroit Tigers remained well ahead of the Orioles in the battle for second place in the AL by beating Los Angeles 6-3 when Chico Fernandez stroked a bases-loaded double that featured a four-run tie-breaking rally in the seventh inning.

Chicago's Ray Herbert defeated Boston 3-1 with a seven-hitter, and Bobby DelGreco hit a two-run homer in the ninth that gave Kansas City a 4-2 win over Cleveland in other games. Minnesota-Washington was rained out.

Central To Bring Aerial Show

Fornsaglio, Gilday Top Pass Team

A fearsome passing combination, a heavy line and two impressive victories under their belts are three reasons why the Steubenville Central Crusaders will rate odds-on favorites when they come to East Liverpool Friday night.

The contest at Patterson Field, which will serve as East Liverpool's home opener, will mark the 11th between the two schools. Central came away with a 34-14 victory last season. The Potters last won in 1959, taking a 6-2 decision on a muddy field. Kickoff time Friday is 7:45.

The passing of "Slingin" Sammy Fornsaglio (160) already has wrecked two Central opponents and observers report the Steubenville quarterback hasn't thrown a poor pass yet. None of his tosses has been intercepted.

He threw for three of Central's four touchdowns in a 27-0 win over Columbus Aquinas and pitched for the same number in a 64-0 opening game victory against Cleveland St. John's Cantius.

On the receiving end of three touchdown aerials has been speedy Jim Gilday, a favorite target, who has a total of six touchdowns to his credit. Gilday ran 62 yards against Columbus last Saturday night and hauled in a pair of scoring throws. The 160-pounder will start at right half.

Another 220-pounder who will balance the line is Bob Bowers, slated for the left tackle spot. Ed Szypulski (160) will be at left guard, with Pete Bonitatibus (165) at center.

A rugged defensive man is Bob Hagerty at 220. He was the standout in Steubenville's last start. He will be in the middle of the Crusader line.

Record Field Entered In 'Jug' Race Today

Odds-makers have Lang Hanover, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, a 2-1 choice in the 10-horse first division. Henry T. Adios is rated a 3-1 favorite to win the second in which nine horses meet.

Fan Refuses To Give Up Ball Maris Hit For 59th

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 32-year-old Baltimorean made a head-long dive in Memorial Stadium Wednesday night for a baseball that may become a collector's item. Or just a conversation piece.

The homer came in New York's 154th team decision of the season —the limit which Commissioner Ford Frick imposed on anyone taking a crack at Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 set in 1927.

But the Yanks have eight more games to play under the expanded 162-game schedule this season, and if Maris hits another homer the market value of the ball owned by Reitz will diminish considerably.

Soon after running down the elusive ball, Reitz indicated he would be happy to exchange the ball for two World Series tickets and an all-expenses-paid trip to all series games in New York.

Maris, who met Reitz under the stands between innings, nixed the offer personally, and the fan returned to his seat.

"Maris shook my hand and posed for pictures," Reitz told newsmen. "Then he called for someone in the clubhouse to bring out another ball. I knew what he wanted to do—autograph another one in exchange for mine. I said 'never mind' and kept the ball."

Post's HR Gives Jay 21st Win

Cincy's Lead Remains At 5; LA Tops Cubs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those amazing Cincinnati Reds, a questionable product in the National League race when the season began, have gone methodically about the business of trying to nail down their first pennant in 21 years with a potent patent on winning one-run games.

The Reds did it again Wednesday night, edging the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 on Wally Post's two-run homer in the eighth inning for their eighth victory in the last nine games and a 34-14 won-lost record in one-run games.

The victory went to right-hander Joey Jay (21-8), the only NL pitcher with 20 wins, and reduced the Reds' magic pennant-clinching number to four over second-place Los Angeles. The Dodgers also won by a single run, nipping Chicago 3-2 in 13 innings.

Milwaukee beat San Francisco 7-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 6-1 in other games.

Post's 20th homer came with Vada Pinson on base via a walk and brought the Reds from behind to beat the Pirates and reliever Elroy Face (6-11).

The Dodgers, beaten two nights in a row by the seventh-place Cubs, remained five games behind the first-place Reds by pushing the winning run across in the 13th when Wally Moon singled, reached second on a ground out, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Ron Fairly's two-out single.

Sandy Koufax (18-11) went the distance for the victory, striking out 15 for a 259 total this season, and moved within eight of tying the modern league record of 267 by Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants in 1903. Barney Schultz (7-6), third Chicago pitcher, was the loser.

8 Local Teams Remain Undefeated; Gridders Face Heavy 16-Game Card

The latest average shows eight out of the 17 teams in the district without a defeat as the third week of football rolls around for most schools.

Four local elevens sport 2-0 marks — Lisbon, Stanton Local, United and Salem — while Columbiana, which opened its season only last week, is 1-0.

Beaver Local, Leetonia and Salineville haven't tasted defeat yet, but all have one thing in common — a tie.

East Liverpool, after taking a week off from the football wars, faces another potential Ohio powerhouse in Steubenville Central, a rough and heavy squad which has easily stepped over two opponents.

The contest Friday night will mark the opening of the home season for the Potters, who took a 40-0 lacing at Niles two weeks ago.

Friday night also will find the Tri-County season opening with Lisbon, victorious over Carrollton and Wellsville, putting its unblemished mark on the line at Minerva.

Stanton Local, under its new coach Don McBride, plays at Irondale Friday night with Wayne the visiting team. Stanton, a power in basketball last season, is showing its stuff on the gridiron with successive victories over Hopedale and Mt. Pleasant.

Salem shouldn't have any trouble in registering its third win when Ravenna visits the Quaker City.

Columbiana, another Tri-County League member, also plays Saturday at Poland.

Beaver Local, which has the potential to become one of the strongest teams in the district, will meet a worthy foe in Union Local on Saturday night. Union from the Martins Ferry area, has won its first two starts. The Beaver Local-Union battle is set for Saturday night on the Beavers' gridiron. Kickoff has been moved up to 7 p. m.

Leetonia, which tied Beaver Local in its opener then defeated Rootstown last week, goes into Tri-County play Friday night at Louisville.

Meanwhile, Salineville after a week's rest, visits Springfield Friday. Coach Dick Jones' Indians played Greenford to a scoreless tie in its 1961 debut two weeks ago.

Three district teams are batting .500 in two starts. East Palestine awaits a visit from Sebring in another Tri-County contest. The Bulldogs are the defending champs.

South Side, a winner over Nashannock but a loser to Avella, jaunts down Route 30 for a meeting at Chester Friday night while New Cumberland visits Weirton Madonna.

Six local grid teams are still looking for their first in the win column. Wellsville, a team that looked potentially strong on paper before the season started, has failed to hit the winning side in two starts.

Coach Ken Woods team has dropped successive starts to Freedom and Lisbon but will be seeking its first victory at Toronto Friday night.

Midland, hit by injuries now after losing two straight, is a decided underdog in its meeting at Beaver Friday. Beaver is rated among the powers in Western Pennsylvania this season.

Newell is without a victory after two starts but will entertain Hopedale Friday. Chester, which plays host to South Side, has dropped two straight to United and Beaver Local.

Crestview, also winless in two games, travels to Lowellville on Saturday.

Keep In Trim

Dieters Can 'Save Face' While Reducing

Overweights who tend to lose "face first" are almost afraid to reduce, as in this case. . ."I'm in the fattening forties, 5 feet 3 and weigh 150 pounds, so you can see I need to reduce. But I have a thin face and do not want to lose there. How can I keep from losing in my face and from getting flabby as I reduce excess fat?" All those interested, tune in . . .

Ida Jean Kain

Overzealous dieters tend to keep the food almost at a semi-starvation level. The body is a working machine, and too little fuel makes for lethargy and laziness.

WHILE THE daily fare must be low enough in calories to force nature to draw on stored fat for part of the fuel needs, the nutrients required for keeping the body in a fine state of repair are needed in optimum amounts.

To lose a pound a week, subtract 500 calories from daily fare. Let's say you burn 2,000 calories daily, the estimated number for sedentary workers and push-button homemakers. Cut down to 1,500 calories by leaving off the fattening trimmings, gravy, cream sauces, and rich desserts.

With a thin face, it is best not to pare down too fine. Five pounds above the streamlined level gives a softer look. With gradual reducing you avoid the depleted look.

However, it's not only what is left out of the diet, but what is eaten daily that's important to health. Certain foods contribute more protection than others. Specifically, these are the foods which furnish high value protein, minerals and vitamins.

Make sure to have daily a pint of buttermilk or skim milk, ½ cup of cottage cheese, 4 ounces lean meat, fish or fowl, and an egg. These protein and mineral-rich foods take care of body repair work.

Vegetables, including dark green leafy or yellow, and fruits, including a citrus, furnish needed minerals and vitamins for tissue building and body regulating. These foods provide an abundance of replenishing nutrients.

Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Audrey Newtz Again Heads City GOP Women

Officers for the coming year were elected at a meeting of the East Liverpool Republican Women's Club Wednesday night at City Hall. Mrs. Audrey Newtz was returned as president.

Other officers are Mrs. Ruth Crawford, vice president; Miss Gladys Rhinehart, treasurer; Miss Mary Alice Lemal, recording secretary, and Mrs. Kristine Walker, corresponding secretary.

The nominating committee included Mrs. Gertrude Reese, chairman, Mrs. Lydia Crawford and Miss Olive Williamson.

Bettis said DiSalle has been in office two years but has not moved Ohio up one notch in national ratings, commenting "the state will not be led out of the wilderness by such leadership."

He also accused the governor of "forever getting into the taxpayer's pocket" and hit at his excessive spending.

Bettis said the inflated budget was adopted to pad the payroll, charging DiSalle has added at least 7,000 to the payroll.

Forty-seven were present. Mrs. Newtz conducted business. Miss Gladys DeBolt, county chairman, reported on various county projects and activities. She also discussed the Republican Women's Council and invited all to attend the next luncheon Oct. 18 at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

The local club will hold a joint meeting with the Men's Republican Club in October. A "meet-your-candidates" program will be presented.

Omni Boosters Club Picks 3 Committees

Three committees were named by Mrs. Frank Leyda, president, at a meeting of the Wellsville Omni Boosters Club Wednesday night at the high school cafeteria.

Appointed were John Cataldo, Leonard Kinzel, Mrs. Ruth Culp, Don Hutchinson and Harry Kiggans, executive; William Culp, Don Lindersmith, Kinzel and Hutchinson, ways and means, and Russell Baughman and Mrs. Kiggans, telephone.

The club announced it will resume holding teen-age dances at the MacDonald all-purpose room Saturday, Sept. 30.

The club will meet next Wednesday night at 7:30.

Court To Set Hearing In Padlocking Case

STEUBENVILLE — No date has been set for a Common Pleas Court hearing on a petition filed by Prosecutor Joseph Loha seeking to padlock a house as a nuisance.

Named as defendants were Paul Bates, 52, and Virginia Shoup, also known as Virginia Bates.

The petition stems from a raid June 7 in which Bates was fined $300 and costs and given a suspended 90-day jail term after pleading guilty to operating a house for purposes of prostitution.

A woman identified as Mrs. Garnet Parks of Hammondsville was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended 10-day term on a prostitution charge.

Virus Infection Hits Buckeye Grid Squad

Following Wednesday's workout, Hayes said, "I'm beginning to get a little concerned. I'm just thankful this (the virus attack) didn't happen next week instead of this week."

Although more than a dozen players are out of action—most of them recovering from the virus—Hayes believes all will be ready for the Bucks opener Sept. 30 against Texas Christian.

Joining the sick list Wednesday was All-America fullback Bob Ferguson who suffered a minor injury.

Salem Man Unhurt In Wellsville Mishap

A Salem motorist escaped injury when his car sheared off a fire plug at Danbury and Clark Aves., Wellsville, at 2:35 a. m. today.

Joseph A. Sowers told police he apparently fell asleep at the wheel. Police said the car sheared off the hydrant and then plunged into the yard of P. G. Wilson home, damaging the hedge and grass.

Sowers was charged with reckless operation. He will receive a hearing before Mayor William J. Shoub.

President Sets Plan To Divulge Secret Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has set up a system for automatically taking the secrecy wraps off a considerable amount of classified government material.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who along with newspaper editor groups has frequently criticized excessive governmental secrecy, said the action Wednesday was "a major improvement in the information protection system."

Moss, chairman of the House Information subcommittee, and newspaper groups have protested that classified labels sometimes are used by government officials to conceal mistakes or policies that should be made public.

Moss said the system was recommended by his group three years ago and supported by the American Society of Newspaper Editors and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

The executive order provides for downgrading the secrecy classification of documents at regular intervals, or sooner if officials decide they no longer need special protection.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the details of the system were worked out by an interdepartmental committee on internal security after a long study of government classification methods.

Lisbon Kindergarten Classes To Be Moved

LISBON — Supt. Russell Armitage said kindergarten classes will be moved to the Methodist Church Monday, making three classes outside school property this term.

The change authorized by the Board of Education had to be made after the two second grade classes of 56 pupils, now in the gymnasium at McKinley School, was found unsatisfactory. Beginning Monday, one second grade will be moved to the kindergarten room and the other will remain in the gymnasium.

Residents will vote on a bond issue Nov. 7 for an addition of 14 rooms at McKinley School. The proposal failed by small margin in the May primary.

LISBON — The Co-operative Office Education Club of Lisbon High School will hold a record hop Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. in the gymnasium with Johnny Mitchell, disc jockey, spinning the records.

55th Traffic Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's 1961 traffic death toll stood at 55 today. The coroner has ruled Garnet Knepper, 53, of suburban North Olmsted died Tuesday of injuries suffered when his car hit a utility pole on the West Side. There were 68 traffic fatalities in the city at this time last year.

New Traffic Laws Aired For Firemen

New traffic regulations and highway safety rules were reviewed by State Highway Patrolmen Ralph Reed and Walter Jones of the Lisbon Barracks at a meeting of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday night at the North Georgetown fire station. Forty-six attended.

Jones discussed the procedures to be followed by emergency equipment on the highways. He said the drivers of such equipment must obey all laws pertaining to the highway. If a fire truck is involved in an accident while en route to a fire, it cannot leave the scene.

En route back from a fire, a truck is the same as a passenger car, he said. New laws also were reviewed. Firemen were informed licenses cannot be transferred from one car to another, the fine for littering a highway is $25 to $50 with a jail sentence up to 30 days or both, that three-quarter ton trucks or smaller with farm licenses now can be used as passenger vehicles to and from work, that after 1962 all automobiles must be equipped with connections for seat belts, and that autoists must turn on their driving lights a half hour after sunset and must keep them on until a half hour after sunrise. Vehicles no longer can drive in the evening or early morning with just parking lights.

Firemen voted to change the constitution to elect new officers in November instead of July. The secretary-treasurer may be reelected but other officers can not succeed themselves.

Science Night To Be Held By Phone Firm

A live telephone connection from East Liverpool to the North American Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., and a demonstration of the Echo communications satellite will highlight "Telephone Science Night" Monday at 7:30 in the Westgate School auditorium.

The free demonstration for East Liverpool and Wellsville area subscribers and their families is being presented by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Doors will open at 7 and the program will conclude at 9, T. Fred Edwards, commercial manager, said.

A color movie, "Seconds for Survival," concerning America's rocket and missile defense system, will be shown. There also will be working demonstrations and exhibits of the latest ideas in telephone science and research, Edwards said, explaining the achievements not only improve telephone service but a vital role in the nation's defense and space programs.

Local officials will explain various departmental functions.

During the main program, special cartoon movies for younger children will be screened in an adjoining room under the supervision of the Westgate PTA. Refreshments will be served by the PTA at the end of the program.

New School Bonds Sold

The Pennsylvania State Public School Building Authority has sold bonds to finance 13 new school projects, including one at South Side High School near Hookstown, estimated to cost $586,720.

The authority at Harrisburg reported the sale of $25,893,000 School Lease Revenue Bonds, Series F, to an investment group headed by Drexel & Co. and Associates. The net interest cost to the authority is 3.68536 per cent.

An investment group led by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc. and Associates submitted the only other bid constituting a net interest of 3.70960 per cent.

Elliott Falk, executive director of the authority, said proceeds will be used by the authority to finance a group of 13 new school projects and to refinance the construction or completion of other projects previously undertaken.

Falk said construction of the new schools will begin as soon as (1) the settlement of the bond sale scheduled for Oct. 25; (2) titles to sites on which the schools are to be built are transferred to the authority; (3) local school boards' architects complete plans and specifications for the new structures, and (4) construction contracts are bid and awarded.

Other projects and their cost include Northwestern Beaver County Joint, $479,572 and three in the Burgettstown Area, Washington County, of $135,585.30, $101,314.66 and $187,305.40.

The project planned at South Side High School includes 10 classrooms and additions to the diningroom, kitchen, cafeteria and locker room.

B. J. McCandless of Ellwood City is the architect.

Deferment Held As Unlikely For Reserves, Guards

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you've been called to active duty as a reservist or National Guardsman your chance of getting a deferment now isn't very good.

Except for extreme hardship cases—and these must be documented—it appears few men are likely to stay behind when their units muster starting in a few days.

The grounds for deferment have been laid down by the Defense Department and are generally common to reserve components of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Officers noted that even when no callup is imminent, reserve and guard elements are supposed to screen personnel as to whether they should be moved back to the standby reserve, which is not subject to call except in a dire national emergency.

Thus, the officers said, a reservist who holds a critical job or a student who plans to attend college should by this time have taken steps to get out of the ready reserve.

Some reservists in this group, the officers said, have been staying in their units and drawing drill pay while taking their chances on not being called up.

The Labor Department lists more than 80 critical occupations—from agronomists to veterinarians—rated as eligible for deferment consideration.

Also among those eligible are college students studying in fields that will qualify them for critical occupations.

Another category takes in men whose callup would result in "extreme personal or community hardship." Enlisted men having four or more dependents normally would be considered as meeting the hardship qualification, the regulations say.

Funds Urged For 2 Flood Control Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money for planning on two additional Ohio projects has been recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee in a House - approved program of flood control, navigation and reclamation project development for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The Ohio projects, and the money recommended for the planning stage, are: Cesar Creek Reservoir, $10,000, and East Fork Reservoir, $10,000.

Shower Regulation For Girls Is Lifted

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Boys at the city's four high schools still are required to take showers after their gym classes, but the girls can make up their own minds on the matter.

Dr. Sanford F. Jameson, schools superintendent, said Wednesday he lifted the regulation for girls because of numerous complaints from parents.

Pee Wee Reese played on more losing World Series teams than any big leaguer in history. He was with the Brooklyn Dodgers when they were humiliated six times.

Girl Faces 6 Months In Cast After 2 Operations On Spine

A 14-year-old East End girl already disabled for six years after a severe polio attack will enter Youngstown South Side Hospital Sept. 30 for two operations to correct spinal curvature, then lie immobile for six to nine months in a cast extending from her shoulders to her hips.

As she awaits the latest in a series of ordeals stretching back to September 1955, there's mingled worry and hope in the mind of Norma Ice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ice, 843 Valley Ave.

Norma is worried because the long convalescence means she will fall behind in her studies at Horace Mann School, where she attends eighth grade classes in a wheelchair.

And she hopes that somehow she will be able to obtain a television set to help while away the long hours flat on her back in bed—enforced idleness that will stretch at least until March and may continue until June.

Norma has known for months that she would enter a hospital eventually for two spinal fusions to help correct the curvature that resulted from polio. Her fondest hope was that she could raise enough money to buy a TV set to keep her company.

Working in her wheelchair, the little girl put in the entire summer weaving potholders on a miniature loom. She sold the potholders for 25 cents each. Persons aware of the reason for her project bought the potholders in wholesale quantities, particularly the clerks in a downtown department store where she acquired her materials.

But after the long summer's work, Norma cleared only about $25, far short of the amount she needs to buy the television set. Mrs. Ice said that renting a set is out of the question. At the rate of $1 to $1.50 a day charged at the hospital, Norma's $25 would be gone quickly.

Labor Day marked the sixth anniversary of the date Norma was stricken. In addition to paralyzing her legs and affecting her back, the polio damaged her abdominal muscles.

Until early this summer, Norma was able to walk with the aid of 14-pound braces on her legs. But she has been unable to war the braces for months because of a severe cyst that appeared at the bottom of her spine. The cyst interfered with the heavy canvas jacket strapped about her body to help support the braces.

She entered the South Side Hospital June 26 for surgery for removal of the cyst. Just a week ago she was released from the doctor's care in the treatment of the cyst. But she still is unable to wear the braces and must get about in a wheelchair.

And Tuesday, she got the word from the physician that she would enter the hospital Sept. 30.

That's when she cried — because she will miss most of this term of school and because she has been unable to make enough potholders to buy herself a TV set.

Norma will be in a cast and under observation for the first four days after she is admitted to the hospital. Then the first of two spinal fusion operations will be performed. The second will follow in about 10 days.

She will remain in the hospital eight to 10 weeks. Then she will be returned to her home for the balance of the six-to nine-month stay in the heavy cast. The long convalescence is required to assure that the spinal fusions will adhere properly.

Norma makes the trip to Horace Mann School faithfully every day, riding in a car and taking her wheelchair along to help her get about inside the building.

Man Kills Wife, Father-In-Law

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — A domestic quarrel has ended in gunfire and death for a 19-year-old expectant wife and her father. Police are holding the dead woman's husband.

Officers said Fred Margarcelli, 17, of Crabtree, went to his mother-in-law's home near this Westmoreland County community Wednesday to persuade his wife to move to his mother's home at Crabtree to await the birth of the baby.

When Margarcelli entered the home, he found his wife, Judy Ann, sitting on a couch in the living room with her 11-year-old brother. Also in the room were Judy Ann's father, Elmer Shepler, 41; Shepler's wife, Dorothy, and another Shepler child.

Police said Margarcelli whipped out a .22 caliber pistol and shot his wife three times. Shepler, according to police, tried to take the gun from him and was shot twice.

Board To Get Charter Plan

Atty. Lozier Caplan, chairman of the Salem Charter Commission, has advised the County Election Board the text of a proposed charter for operation of Salem's municipal government will be certified to the board next Tuesday for a place on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The deadline for filing the lengthy proposal is next Wednesday, Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, pointed out.

The charter proposal has been drafted by a 15-member commission which Salem voters elected a year ago. It follows the so-called "federal plan." The principal proposals call for a four-year term for the mayor, continues a two-year term for Council and calls for creation of the post of finance officer who would assume the duties of both the auditor and the treasurer.

If the majority of Salem voters approve, Salem will switch its government to operation under the charter. Any Ohio city is governed under provisions of the state code laying down the duties of municipal officers unless it adopts a charter providing for a different method of operation.

Meanwhile, the Board of Education of the Fairfield - Waterford School District has advised the board it expects to seek a vote on a 1-mill operating levy.

The deadline for filing proposals for the Nov. 7 general election ballot has passed, but law permits the school board to request a special election to be held on the same date. A 55 per cent affirmative vote would be required for approval.

Hammondsville PTA Plans Drive

HAMMONDSVILLE — Plans to hold a membership drive Oct. 1-7 were completed by the Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting Monday night in the school.

Named to an auditing committee were Mrs. Eva Parsons, Mrs. Marilyn Furbee and Mrs. Joann Wilson. The group will be represented at the Jefferson County PTA Council meetings by Mrs. Shirley Rhodes and Mrs. Shirley Plunkett, president.

Members voted to bring equipment for a community playlot to the school for use by the older children and to repair a slide-board and paint present equipment.

The first and second grades of Mrs. Lena Crook and Mrs. Marie Myers' third and fourth grades tied for the attendance banner.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Albert T. Flitcraft, 27, of Minerva R.D. 1 forfeited a $20 appearance bond in Mayor Dean Stockman's court Tuesday evening on a charge of operating an unsafe truck. It drifted from its parking place Monday, striking three parking meters, a utility pole and two highway markers.

Ever cook fresh pears in red wine a la the French? Pare the pears but leave them whole. Use equal parts of the wine and sugar and simmer the pears in the mixture until they are tender. Chill the fruit before serving.

School Song Written For South Side High

Words for the new Alma Mater of South Side High School near Hookstown have been written by Howard Howarth, instrumental music director.

The words to the tune of "Aura Lee", the official tune of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, were heard at a pep meeting Friday and later at half-time of the South Side-Avella football game.

Howarth, who attended Geneva College, Duquesne University and the Manhattan School of Music, felt the school needed an Alma Mater to create a more unifying organization.

If you use tenderizer on lamb shanks they'll be sure to be tender. Toast them in a slow oven —about 1½ hours if each shank weighs about a pound.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Seven years ago I married a man whose wife died in childbirth. His little girl, Linda, was 2 years old at the time of our marriage. Tom's sister took the baby when she was a week old. He pays $50 a month for her keep.

Now Tim and I have two daughters of our own. When Linda comes to visit us weekends it's an endless battle. She's sloppy, ill-mannered and tries to boss my two. The girl is very much overweight and sneaks candy and pop behind my back.

Linda says she wants to live with us all the time because our house is prettier than her aunt's, there are better things to eat here and more to do in our neighborhood. I'm afraid she'll cause nothing but trouble in our family and I don't want her. Tom says it's up to me.

Of course I feel guilty but what shall I do?—TINA.

Dear Tina: This unfortunate child needs love and understanding. She would get neither in your home.

You are not sufficiently wise nor mature to accept the challenge of coping with Linda. I suggest that you make an appointment with an expert on problem children. When you gain some insight into Linda's emotional needs you may then reconsider.

Tight Tippers

Dear Ann: I work in one of the country's finest hotels. Something has been bugging me and maybe you can come up with the answer.

Why do certain people think it's all right to throw away thousands of dollars on the crap tables, stay in the fanciest suites, eat and drink like royalty, and then, when it comes to tipping, cheap out like nobody's business?

Some big shots give a bellhop four bits for handling two 60-pound bags and then flip the doorman two bits for parking a Lincoln Continental.

In the dining room their colors really show up. They are all the time trying to pick a fight with the waiter so they can use it as an excuse to leave a small tip—or none at all. What makes rich people so crummy?—LAS VEGAS.

Dear Vegas: Rich people aren't any crummier than anyone else. Generosity, stinginess, kindness and meanness are all human qualities which can show up in any person, regardless of the size of the bankroll.

To label all people of means as cheap and abusive is an unfair and inaccurate generalization.

Uniform For Maid

Dear Ann: The woman who comes to clean for me three days a week is about 40 years of age. She has a nice figure but she has a homely face.

Yesterday she showed up in a two-piece strapless outfit, midriff style. When she kneeled over to wipe up the kitchen floor she almost lost the top of her outfit. My husband thought this was very amusing.

I have lived in this country only two years. Is it proper to tell a woman who comes to clean what kind of dresses to wear? My husband says no. What do you say? —E.K.

Dear E.K.: Not only is it proper but in this case it seems urgent. Tell her a simple housedress will do. Some cleaning women wear uniforms. It might be nice if you bought her one.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Beaver High School Harvest Fair Waited

The annual Tri-State Harvest Fair, sponsored by the Beaver Local Boosters Club, will be held Friday and Saturday nights at the high school grounds near Williamsport.

The fair will feature booths and concessions, along with refreshment stands and amusement rides of Hecks Amusement Co.

George Gaydos of Route 7 is general chairman. Proceeds are to be used for booster projects.

Get-Acquainted Meeting Held By Wellsville PTA

A get-acquainted meeting of teachers and parents was held Monday evening by the Wellsville McKinley Parent - Teacher Association.

The group decided to have individual student pictures taken Oct. 20 and to hold a rummage sale Oct. 2-28. Place for the sale will be announced.

Mrs. Glayds Patterson, formerly of Wellsville and a teacher this year in East Liverpool schools, spoke on the school systems of Europe, where she taught a year.

Mrs. Everet Bunfill read a letter in the PTA bulletin from a teacher. The fourth grade room of Miss Isa Anderson won the attendance banner.

'Painted' Windshields Seen Traffic Hazard

Huge numbers and letters painted on the windshields of autos on used car lots can prove a hazard when a potential customer takes one of the vehicles for a test drive, Police Chief Americo Radeschi warned dealers today.

The advertising signs, in removable paint, often cover such a wide area of the windshield that the driver's vision is obscured badly, the chief said. He said there has been several recent instances in which officers have halted a potential customer driving a dealer's car and pointed out the hazard of the obscured windshield.

Dealers who paint advertising on windshields should make certain vision is not obscured when allowing a car to be taken for a test drive, he said.
